Hurls Challenge

Khrushchev Tells Chinese Reds To Mend Their Ways

Pours Scorn On Peking's War Theory

Says Communist Policy Cannot Be Based On Conflict

BERLIN (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev challenged the Chinese Communists today to mend their ways if they want to stay in the Soviet camp and said Communist policy cannot be based on war.

Khrushchev did not call the Red Chinese by name. He used the fiction of attacking their Albanian allies.

Pouring scorn on Peking's war-and-peace theories, Khrushchev warned the East German Communist party's sixth congress that communism cannot win in a nuclear war. Such a conflict, he said, would bring unimaginable destruction and death in the world.

Speaking clearly in the context of his argument with Peking over war and peace as it applies to Communist expansion, Khrushchev pleaded that the fight for peace was the "prime task for socialism."

He departed from his text and waved his arms as he declared:

"Russian Communists never started a war to carry communism to victory. Some who call themselves Marxists and Leninists want to win Socialist victory by war."

Dropping his voice to make his point clear, he warned:

"The United States has 40,000 atomic or nuclear warheads. What would happen if one let all those bombs come down on humanity? Seven hundred to eight hundred million people would perish. Countries would be rubbed out.

May Determine Amount Of Tax Cut

Thundering Budget Battle Seen Shaping In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — A thundering battle of the budget appears to be shaping up in Congress.

Its outcome may determine how much of President Kennedy's proposed tax cuts and welfare legislation will get through.

Kennedy will present to Congress Thursday a budget of around $99 billion. It will be accompanied by a Treasury estimate that the spending involved would add more than $10 billion to the deficit in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

No one in the administration regards it as a happy circumstance that the President will have to report so much projected red ink spending at a time he is asking Congress to slice about $6 billion off of tax receipts in the same year.

The reaction could affect his whole three-year, $13.5 billion-tax reduction program. It could spell painful progress for welfare proposals he said Monday in his State of the Union message "we cannot afford to postpone."

Budget balancing has been a highly touted but non-effective activity in Congress in the last few years when defense and space expenditures have been pushing through the roof.

There is clear evidence that the old economy alliance of Republicans and conservative Democrats is being rewelded to oppose Kennedy domestic proposals such as those for establishment of a youth conservation corps, a domestic peace corps and large-scale aid to education.

The President's program for Social Security-financed health care for the elderly falls into a somewhat different category. It would put an added tax take on individuals at a time when Kennedy is asking that their income taxes be lowered.

15 Indicted By Hancock Grand Jurors

5 Returned Against Defendants In Club Raids Of Last July

The Hancock County Grand Jury indicted 15 persons, including five in club raids of last July, when it reported after a one-day session Tuesday at New Cumberland.

Five misdemeanor counts were returned as the result of raids at the Club Capri and the Town and Country Club, both near Weirton, on July 12.

West Virginia State Police raided the establishments and 13 others in the countywide drive on liquor law violations.

Named in the misdemeanor charges were Marie Battalo and Tony Herb, both of the Club Capri, possession of liquor, and Carol J. Graham, also of the Capri, sale of liquor. Indicted from the Town and Country Club were Dolly Smith and Sara J. Barber, sale of liquor.

The panel, headed by Marvin H. Levendorf of Weirton, returned felony indictments against these 10 defendants:

Michael Pekech, 48, of Weirton and Paul William Bates, 53, of Massillon, felonious assault and armed robberty of $3,500 from Nick Munas Sept. 26 in Weirton.

Gary Lee Call, 18, of Wellsville and Charlie Hall, 20, of Chester, theft of $198.29 from Goddard Bakers of Chester Oct. 30.

Lester Earl McAdams Jr. of Hanlin Station R. D. 1 and Charles Edison Bradley, breaking and entering in Weirton.

Dwayne C. Mercer, 26, of New Cumberland, breaking and entering of the Hancock County Board of Education offices in the county seat in October.

Charles Raymond Richards, 19, of East Liverpool, auto theft.

Booker T. Curtis of Wellsburg, assault.

Lyle V. Fritz, 27, of Cincinnati, auto theft at Waterford Park race track in November.

No pleas were entered by the defendants and Judge James G. McClure set arraignment for each Thursday.

The panel was in session from 9:30 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. and heard testimony from a number of witnesses summoned by Prosecuting Atty. Floyd R. Tarr.

Midland Area Church Hit Severely By Blaze

The interior of the Mt. Zion African Methodist Episcopal Church on Cow Hollow Rd. near Midland was gutted in a fire early Tuesday night blamed on an overheated furnace.

Firemen from Ohioville, Midland Heights and Midland battled the flames in the 1½-story concrete block building for three hours after the alarm was turned in about 5 p. m. yesterday.

John H. Williams, caretaker who resides next door, said he discovered the fire. The flames apparently ignited the wood joists in the basement and burned through the floor in the pulpit area and then spread into the roof. The church was dedicated in 1960. The Rev. W. W. Frank of Aliquippa is pastor.

2 File Requests For Police Posts

Two more applications for police posts in Chester were received at a meeting of Council Tuesday night when a report was filed on the recent absences of City Solicitor Ruth Cox Turner.

Applications were filed by C. T. Cartwright, 62, of 454 Carolina Ave., a pottery worker, for police chief, and by David Mosser, 30, of 1st St., discharged last week from the Air Force where he served 10 years, for police work.

COUNCIL LAST week appointed former Chief Clarence Lennens as patrolman and acting chief for the remainder of the administration's term to June 1963.

Lennens was replaced Jan. 2 by Orville Johnson, school bus driver and insurance agent, who resigned two days later and the city went for a week with only two city officers, supplemented by West Virginia State Police who made periodic visits.

Council appointed Lennens to the acting chief post last Friday, and agreed to continue to study appointment of a police chief.

Applications on file include those from Lennens, Harold Davis, also a former chief; Thomas Potts of Carolina Ave.; Holly Smith of Fairview St., William Cornell of Montana Ave.; Gilbert Miller of Lycia Ave. and Lewis Lyons of Lycia Ave.

CITY CLERK Roy Cashdollar was instructed to write to Gov. W. W. Barron, State Police Supt. W. E. Burchett and the police at the Weirton post for their assistance to the city.

Councilman Wayne Hutton said, "We should extend deepest appreciation to our mayor for the time spent assisting the police and for his other duties during the recent few weeks."

Mayor Harry Abrams said, "It was my duty to do all I can for the City at all times."

Councilman Charles Kology said he wanted to thank press and radio for coverage of the police developments, and to thank the business and professional men of the city for their interest.

THERE were no visitors at the meeting, a contrast to recent previous sessions attended by crowds of 50 to 200. The meeting, which began at 7, ended 35 minutes later.

Councilman Donald Chaney had asked for an early meeting in order to attend a service station operators' session near Aliquippa last night.

Councilman Carl Graham reported he had conferred yesterday with Mrs. Turner, city solicitor, about her absences from recent meetings.

He said Mrs. Turner—who was absent last night — said a recent illness and the press of other business has prevented her from being at Council sessions.

Graham said Mrs. Turner told him, however, that her office is always open for legal advice to the city officials.

—:—

COUNCILMAN Hutton said he will meet with Mrs. Turner to determine if she has found out when the West Virginia Public Service Commission will hold a hearing on a proposed flat rate

New Gas Rate Plan Rejected At Wellsville

Council Reverses Self In Refusing To Give 2nd Reading

Wellsville City Council gave a cold shoulder to a new gas rate proposal of the Ohio Valley Gas Co. Tuesday night, rejecting the plan on second reading by a 4-3 vote.

The utility apparently now faces another long delay in having the rate hike brought before Council for consideration.

Council had voted 3-2 for approval of the revised rate at its first reading Jan. 2.

Last night's action was swift, with little discussion before the vote to reject.

Mrs. Margaret Baldwin, clerk, read the opening paragraph of "City Ordinance 1904" and the vote followed.

Dissenting votes were cast by Council members Mrs. Kay Drago, Robert Taggart, Allen Baldwin and William Stroble, while approval was voted by Dwight MacLean, Frank DeLonzo and Donald Miller.

The revised rate called for an increase of 8.6 per cent for four years with abolishment of a delayed payment charge. The minimum monthly charge was to be $2.65. The average heating customer's bill would have increased about $1 monthly.

The utility's original proposal, submitted in June 1961, called for a general increase of 19.8 per cent. This proposal was turned down repeatedly.

Harold Sneddon, East Liverpool District manager, represented the utility at Council's meeting last night.

The utility said earlier that if its "rock - bottom" rate was rejected, its request for an increase would be carried to the Ohio Public Utilities Commission.

City Workers Due Pay Hike At Wellsville

Wellsville City Council Tuesday night authorized Atty. William Bush, solicitor, to prepare enabling legislation to provide pay hikes for city employes.

A new pay scale is to be set up for city employes and the increases will be financed under a plan proposed by Mayor William W. Daugherty.

Explained on the mayor's behalf by Councilman Donald Miller, finance chairman, Council voted unanimously on Miller's motion and second by Dwight MacLean that the solicitor begin preparing the legislation.

The plan to provide funds for the wage hikes follows a basic three-point program — redemption of notes issued in 1958 for sewage disposal construction purposes with $3,200 in interest going to the general fund; investment in the Treasury Department of the aggregate of city funds not now earning interest on deposit and claiming the investment interest for the general fund, and claiming revenue available to the city from the new property tax reappraisal in the county.

Council will meet in caucus Monday night at 7 in the mayor's office to further discuss the plan to finance the pay raises for all city employes.

Mayor Daugherty had explained his plan earlier at a caucus meeting with Council and all members had voted approval. It calls for providing modest raises for city employes "without affecting existing services or depleting existing funds."

Waits Tshombe's Move

U.N. Continues Katanga Action

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, The Congo (AP)—Wary U.N. officials continued their military buildup in Katanga today as they awaited Moise Tshombe's next move following his announced readiness to end his 2½-year secession.

Military authorities on the scene treated the surrender offer with extreme caution even though the Congolese central government agreed to Tshombe's demand for a full amnesty. It was his lone remaining condition for returning to the Congo fold.

Indian troops advancing on Kolwezi were reported under Katangan mortar fire Tuesday night. The Indians suffered one wounded in a sharp fight earlier in the day. They were reported 72 miles from the Tshombe stronghold and its vital mines and utilities which the secessionists once threatened to blow up.

While U.N. troops in the field kept on the alert, signs multiplied elsewhere that Tshombe's long fight for Katangan independence was at an end.

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant, often skeptical in the past about Tshombe's pronouncements, welcomed the Katangan leader's new promise to cooperate with the United Nations. Thant said in New York he hoped Tshombe's readiness to allow U.N. troops freedom of movement would be put into effect promptly.

Nine of Tshombe's white officers, obviously not trusting in any amnesty promises from the Leopoldville government, cleared out of Kolwezi and crossed the border into Northern Rhodesia. Tshombe already has paid off the white officers.

A U.N. spokesman in New York announced that Congolese Premier Cyrille Adoula and President Joseph Kasavubu had sent letters to Thant assuring him that they stood by previous affirmations of amnesty.

Under Thant's plan for Congo unification, the central government is required to "immediately enact and, if necessary introduce and defend in Parliament, legislation proclaiming a general amnesty." The Congo Parliament now is in recess after almost voting Adoula out of office.

Action Looms By President In Dock Tieup

May Act If Issues Aren't Narrowed In 'Final Bid' Today

NEW YORK (AP)—An assistant secretary of labor says President Kennedy may act in the 25-day-old dock strike if the issues are not narrowed here today in what is billed as a "final attempt" at settlement.

Assistant Secretary James J. Reynolds says that if union and industry representatives don't show "substantial progress" he will return to Washington and report to Labor Secretary W. Williard Wirtz who in turn will report to the President.

Reynolds made the statement late Tuesday after several separate meetings with negotiators on each side.

He did not say what action Kennedy might take in an effort to halt the Atlantic and Gulf coasts strike by 60,000 men that has crippled shipping in ports from Maine to Texas.

Presidential press secretary Pierre declined in Washington to comment on Reynolds' statement.

Unless there is a settlement, soon, the President will be required by the Taft-Hartley Act to report the situation to Congress along with any special legislative plans he might have to end the deadlock.

Kennedy ended a four-day dock strike last October by invoking the national emergency clauses of the Taft-Hartley Act. An 80-day cooling-off period was ordered, and the men went back to work. When the 80-day injunction expired without a contract agreement, the dockers resumed the strike Dec. 23.

Becomes Pennsylvania Governor

Scranton Cites Economy As State's Chief Problem

HARRISBURG — William W. Scranton Tuesday became the 103rd governor of Pennsylvania.

The 45-year-old millionaire took the oath of office midst a 19-gun salute and then stressed economy as the state's biggest problem in a 10-minute address to some 12,000 in the arena of the State Farm Show building.

He held that the people of Pennsylvania have the same resourcefulness and imagination that made William Penn's venture a success almost three centuries ago. They can, Scranton said, surmount the present buffeting of history's greatest technological revolution.

The work must start now, he said.

"Don't tell me that Pennsylvania can't lick its problems," he said. "I know it can.

"We still have the same God-given resources, the same advantages of commerce and industry, the same progressive spirit that brought us greatness in other years.

"These things must be tapped. Resources and advantages and spirit must be put to work. Human courage and human hope must drive the motors of human effort and human toil.

"Some of Pennsylvania's problems can be solved soon," Scranton said. "Others can be solved only in time. But nothing will happen unless the labor begins today.

Scranton was interrupted frequently by applause. It came heavily when he made a bid for peace between labor and industry, and said that the blame for conflict is to be shared equally. He gave neither fault nor superiority to either political party.

The Scrantons Dance At Inaugural Ball

Rest Is Prescribed For Governor's Wife

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Rest at home has been prescribed for Ohio's new first lady, Mrs. James A. Rhodes.

Aides to Gov. Rhodes said Mrs. Rhodes has been suffering from a cold. Additionally, they said, a chair bumped her back during inauguration ceremonies Monday, apparently reactivating a back injury she suffered several weeks ago while stooping to pet the family dog.

British Labor Figure Reported As 'Weaker'

LONDON (AP) — Doctors reported Labor party leader Hugh Gaitskill was a little weaker today and has not responded to treatment.

Doctors at Middlesex Hospital reported that his condition had deteriorated during the previous 24 hours.

Gaitskell, 56, is suffering from a virus infection of the membranes surrounding his heart and lungs.

Says Reds Must Heal Split

Fidel Sounds Aggressive Call For Latin Revolution

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro today sounded his most aggressive call yet for revolution in Latin America and declared world communism must heal its split to help the masses rise.

"The liberating movement is fighting . . . in Latin America and this fight needs all the united forces of the Socialist revolution," he shouted in a televised speech which lasted nearly three hours.

Castro's call for Communist unity and Latin-American uprisings came as Soviet Premier Khrushchev issued the same appeal for union in a major speech at Berlin, but Khrushchev said socialism's principal task is to seek world peace.

Castro told his audience—mostly women from many Latin nations—its task is to lead the continent in Cuba-style revolutions.

"In the world in which the American woman lives, the woman necessarily has to be a revolutionary," he declared.

Cuba, he said, faces a difficult situation.

"In the first place, it is the fundamental target of imperialism," he said. "Second, there are divisions within the socialist camp.

"I mean that for us the crisis of the Caribbean is not resolved. War is averted but the peace is not won. Our problem today is how to create all we require to satisfy our necessities.

"This is not easy to do with the claws of imperialism over us, with the incessant hostility of the most powerful and aggressive imperialistic nation in the world."

But, said Castro to prolonged applause, "This country never will be conquered. And if one day the Yankee imperialists, using all their strength and resources, decide to destroy this country, the most they will be able to do is destroy but not defeat us."

Crouching over his microphones with his eyes flashing, Castro declared it is the duty of revolutionary leaders to rally the masses for combat.

Rep. Hays In Hospital After Intestinal Upset

Rep. Wayne L. Hays, veteran 18th Ohio District congressman, entered Walter Reed Hospital at Washington Tuesday after suffering a severe gastrointestinal upset that may have been caused by gall bladder trouble.

Rep. Hays is scheduled to remain in the hospital at least through today for definite diagnosis.

The Belmont Countain's hospitalization was announced in Washington by his secretary, H. Elaine Heslin, who said he suffered the severe upset over the weekend. His doctors advised hospitalization to allow a definite diagnosis, but preliminary tests indicated it stemmed from the gall bladder, she said.

Khrushchev Tells Chinese Reds To Mend Their Ways

Pours Scorn On Peking's War Theory

Says Communist Policy Cannot Be Based On Conflict

BERLIN (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev challenged the Chinese Communists today to mend their ways if they want to stay in the Soviet camp and said Communist policy cannot be based on war.

Khrushchev did not call the Red Chinese by name. He used the fiction of attacking their Albanian allies.

Pouring scorn on Peking's war-and-peace theories, Khrushchev warned the East German Communist party's sixth congress that communism cannot win in a nuclear war. Such a conflict, he said, would bring unimaginable destruction and death in the world.

Speaking clearly in the context of his argument with Peking over war and peace as it applies to Communist expansion, Khrushchev pleaded that the fight for peace was the "prime task for socialism."

May Determine Amount Of Tax Cut

Thundering Budget Battle Seen Shaping In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — A thundering battle of the budget appears to be shaping up in Congress.

Its outcome may determine how much of President Kennedy's proposed tax cuts and welfare legislation will get through.

Kennedy will present to Congress Thursday a budget of around $99 billion. It will be accompanied by a Treasury estimate that the spending involved would add more than $10 billion to the deficit in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

No one in the administration regards it as a happy circumstance that the President will have to report so much projected red ink spending at a time he is asking Congress to slice about $6 billion off of tax receipts in the same year.

The reaction could affect his whole three-year, $13.5 billion-tax reduction program. It could spell painful progress for welfare proposals he said Monday in his State of the Union message "we cannot afford to postpone."

There is clear evidence that the old economy alliance of Republicans and conservative Democrats is being rewelded to oppose Kennedy domestic proposals such as those for establishment of a youth conservation corps, a domestic peace corps and large-scale aid to education.

The President's program for Social Security-financed health care for the elderly falls into a somewhat different category. It would put an added tax take on individuals at a time when Kennedy is asking that their income taxes be lowered.

15 Indicted By Hancock Grand Jurors

5 Returned Against Defendants In Club Raids Of Last July

The Hancock County Grand Jury indicted 15 persons, including five in club raids of last July, when it reported after a one-day session Tuesday at New Cumberland.

Five misdemeanor counts were returned as the result of raids at the Club Capri and the Town and Country Club, both near Weirton, on July 12.

West Virginia State Police raided the establishments and 13 others in the countywide drive on liquor law violations.

Named in the misdemeanor charges were Marie Battalo and Tony Herb, both of the Club Capri, possession of liquor, and Carol J. Graham, also of the Capri, sale of liquor. Indicted from the Town and Country Club were Dolly Smith and Sara J. Barber, sale of liquor.

The panel, headed by Marvin H. Levendorf of Weirton, returned felony indictments against these 10 defendants:

Michael Pekech, 48, of Weirton and Paul William Bates, 53, of Massillon, felonious assault and armed robberty of $3,500 from Nick Munas Sept. 26 in Weirton.

Gary Lee Call, 18, of Wellsville and Charlie Hall, 20, of Chester, theft of $198.29 from Goddard Bakers of Chester Oct. 30.

Lester Earl McAdams Jr. of Hanlin Station R. D. 1 and Charles Edison Bradley, breaking and entering in Weirton.

Dwayne C. Mercer, 26, of New Cumberland, breaking and entering of the Hancock County Board of Education offices in the county seat in October.

Charles Raymond Richards, 19, of East Liverpool, auto theft.

Booker T. Curtis of Wellsburg, assault.

Lyle V. Fritz, 27, of Cincinnati, auto theft at Waterford Park race track in November.

No pleas were entered by the defendants and Judge James G. McClure set arraignment for each Thursday.

The panel was in session from 9:30 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. and heard testimony from a number of witnesses summoned by Prosecuting Atty. Floyd R. Tarr.

Midland Area Church Hit Severely By Blaze

The interior of the Mt. Zion African Methodist Episcopal Church on Cow Hollow Rd. near Midland was gutted in a fire early Tuesday night blamed on an overheated furnace.

Firemen from Ohioville, Midland Heights and Midland battled the flames in the 1½-story concrete block building for three hours after the alarm was turned in about 5 p. m. yesterday.

John H. Williams, caretaker who resides next door, said he discovered the fire. The flames apparently ignited the wood joists in the basement and burned through the floor in the pulpit area and then spread into the roof. The church was dedicated in 1960. The Rev. W. W. 2 File Requests For Police Posts

Two more applications for police posts in Chester were received at a meeting of Council Tuesday night when a report was filed on the recent absences of City Solicitor Ruth Cox Turner.

Applications were filed by C. T. Cartwright, 62, of 454 Carolina Ave., a pottery worker, for police chief, and by David Mosser, 30, of 1st St., discharged last week from the Air Force where he served 10 years, for police work.

Councilman Donald Chaney had asked for an early meeting in order to attend a service station operators' session near Aliquippa last night.

Councilman Carl Graham reported he had conferred yesterday with Mrs. Turner, city solicitor, about her absences from recent meetings.

He said Mrs. Turner—who was absent last night — said a recent illness and the press of other business has prevented her from being at Council sessions.

Graham said Mrs. Turner told him, however, that her office is always open for legal advice to the city officials.

New Gas Rate Plan Rejected At Wellsville

Council Reverses Self In Refusing To Give 2nd Reading

Wellsville City Council gave a cold shoulder to a new gas rate proposal of the Ohio Valley Gas Co. Tuesday night, rejecting the plan on second reading by a 4-3 vote.

The utility apparently now faces another long delay in having the rate hike brought before Council for consideration.

Council had voted 3-2 for approval of the revised rate at its first reading Jan. 2.

Last night's action was swift, with little discussion before the vote to reject.

Mrs. Margaret Baldwin, clerk, read the opening paragraph of "City Ordinance 1904" and the vote followed.

Dissenting votes were cast by Council members Mrs. Kay Drago, Robert Taggart, Allen Baldwin and William Stroble, while approval was voted by Dwight MacLean, Frank DeLonzo and Donald Miller.

The revised rate called for an increase of 8.6 per cent for four years with abolishment of a delayed payment charge. The minimum monthly charge was to be $2.65. The average heating customer's bill would have increased about $1 monthly.

The utility's original proposal, submitted in June 1961, called for a general increase of 19.8 per cent. This proposal was turned down repeatedly.

Harold Sneddon, East Liverpool District manager, represented the utility at Council's meeting last night.

The utility said earlier that if its "rock - bottom" rate was rejected, its request for an increase would be carried to the Ohio Public Utilities Commission.

Waits Tshombe's Move

U.N. Continues Katanga Action

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, The Congo (AP)—Wary U.N. officials continued their military buildup in Katanga today as they awaited Moise Tshombe's next move following his announced readiness to end his 2½-year secession.

Military authorities on the scene treated the surrender offer with extreme caution even though the Congolese central government agreed to Tshombe's demand for a full amnesty. It was his lone remaining condition for returning to the Congo fold.

Indian troops advancing on Kolwezi were reported under Katangan mortar fire Tuesday night. The Indians suffered one wounded in a sharp fight earlier in the day. They were reported 72 miles from the Tshombe stronghold and its vital mines and utilities which the secessionists once threatened to blow up.

While U.N. troops in the field kept on the alert, signs multiplied elsewhere that Tshombe's long fight for Katangan independence was at an end.

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant, often skeptical in the past about Tshombe's pronouncements, welcomed the Katangan leader's new promise to cooperate with the United Nations. Thant said in New York he hoped Tshombe's readiness to allow U.N. troops freedom of movement would be put into effect promptly.

Nine of Tshombe's white officers, obviously not trusting in any amnesty promises from the Leopoldville government, cleared out of Kolwezi and crossed the border into Northern Rhodesia. Tshombe already has paid off the white officers.

A U.N. spokesman in New York announced that Congolese Premier Cyrille Adoula and President Joseph Kasavubu had sent letters to Thant assuring him that they stood by previous affirmations of amnesty.

Under Thant's plan for Congo unification, the central government is required to "immediately enact and, if necessary introduce and defend in Parliament, legislation proclaiming a general amnesty." The Congo Parliament now is in recess after almost voting Adoula out of office.

City Workers Due Pay Hike At Wellsville

Wellsville City Council Tuesday night authorized Atty. William Bush, solicitor, to prepare enabling legislation to provide pay hikes for city employes.

A new pay scale is to be set up for city employes and the increases will be financed under a plan proposed by Mayor William W. Daugherty.

The plan to provide funds for the wage hikes follows a basic three-point program — redemption of notes issued in 1958 for sewage disposal construction purposes with $3,200 in interest going to the general fund; investment in the Treasury Department of the aggregate of city funds not now earning interest on deposit and claiming the investment interest for the general fund, and claiming revenue available to the city from the new property tax reappraisal in the county.

Council will meet in caucus Monday night at 7 in the mayor's office to further discuss the plan to finance the pay raises for all city employes.

Mayor Daugherty had explained his plan earlier at a caucus meeting with Council and all members had voted approval. It calls for providing modest raises for city employes "without affecting existing services or depleting existing funds."

Action Looms By President In Dock Tieup

May Act If Issues Aren't Narrowed In 'Final Bid' Today

NEW YORK (AP)—An assistant secretary of labor says President Kennedy may act in the 25-day-old dock strike if the issues are not narrowed here today in what is billed as a "final attempt" at settlement.

Assistant Secretary James J. Reynolds says that if union and industry representatives don't show "substantial progress" he will return to Washington and report to Labor Secretary W. Williard Wirtz who in turn will report to the President.

Reynolds made the statement late Tuesday after several separate meetings with negotiators on each side.

He did not say what action Kennedy might take in an effort to halt the Atlantic and Gulf coasts strike by 60,000 men that has crippled shipping in ports from Maine to Texas.

Presidential press secretary Pierre declined in Washington to comment on Reynolds' statement.

Unless there is a settlement, soon, the President will be required by the Taft-Hartley Act to report the situation to Congress along with any special legislative plans he might have to end the deadlock.

Kennedy ended a four-day dock strike last October by invoking the national emergency clauses of the Taft-Hartley Act. An 80-day cooling-off period was ordered, and the men went back to work. When the 80-day injunction expired without a contract agreement, the dockers resumed the strike Dec. 23.

Says Reds Must Heal Split

Fidel Sounds Aggressive Call For Latin Revolution

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro today sounded his most aggressive call yet for revolution in Latin America and declared world communism must heal its split to help the masses rise.

"The liberating movement is fighting . . . in Latin America and this fight needs all the united forces of the Socialist revolution," he shouted in a televised speech which lasted nearly three hours.

Castro's call for Communist unity and Latin-American uprisings came as Soviet Premier Khrushchev issued the same appeal for union in a major speech at Berlin, but Khrushchev said socialism's principal task is to seek world peace.

Castro told his audience—mostly women from many Latin nations—its task is to lead the continent in Cuba-style revolutions.

"In the world in which the American woman lives, the woman necessarily has to be a revolutionary," he declared.

Cuba, he said, faces a difficult situation.

"In the first place, it is the fundamental target of imperialism," he said. "Second, there are divisions within the socialist camp.

"I mean that for us the crisis of the Caribbean is not resolved. War is averted but the peace is not won. Our problem today is how to create all we require to satisfy our necessities.

"This is not easy to do with the claws of imperialism over us, with the incessant hostility of the most powerful and aggressive imperialistic nation in the world."

But, said Castro to prolonged applause, "This country never will be conquered. And if one day the Yankee imperialists, using all their strength and resources, decide to destroy this country, the most they will be able to do is destroy but not defeat us."

Crouching over his microphones with his eyes flashing, Castro declared it is the duty of revolutionary leaders to rally the masses for combat.

Rep. Hays In Hospital After Intestinal Upset

Rep. Wayne L. Hays, veteran 18th Ohio District congressman, entered Walter Reed Hospital at Washington Tuesday after suffering a severe gastrointestinal upset that may have been caused by gall bladder trouble.

Rep. Hays is scheduled to remain in the hospital at least through today for definite diagnosis.

The Belmont Countain's hospitalization was announced in Washington by his secretary, H. Elaine Heslin, who said he suffered the severe upset over the weekend. His doctors advised hospitalization to allow a definite diagnosis, but preliminary tests indicated it stemmed from the gall bladder, she said.

Becomes Pennsylvania Governor

Scranton Cites Economy As State's Chief Problem

HARRISBURG — William W. Scranton Tuesday became the 103rd governor of Pennsylvania.

The 45-year-old millionaire took the oath of office midst a 19-gun salute and then stressed economy as the state's biggest problem in a 10-minute address to some 12,000 in the arena of the State Farm Show building.

He held that the people of Pennsylvania have the same resourcefulness and imagination that made William Penn's venture a success almost three centuries ago. They can, Scranton said, surmount the present buffeting of history's greatest technological revolution.

The work must start now, he said.

"Don't tell me that Pennsylvania can't lick its problems," he said. "I know it can.

"We still have the same God-given resources, the same advantages of commerce and industry, the same progressive spirit that brought us greatness in other years.

"These things must be tapped. Resources and advantages and spirit must be put to work. Human courage and human hope must drive the motors of human effort and human toil.

"Some of Pennsylvania's problems can be solved soon," Scranton said. "Others can be solved only in time. But nothing will happen unless the labor begins today.

Scranton was interrupted frequently by applause. It came heavily when he made a bid for peace between labor and industry, and said that the blame for conflict is to be shared equally. He gave neither fault nor superiority to either political party.

The Scrantons Dance At Inaugural Ball

U.S. Refusing DeGaulle 'No' On A-Force

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington officials are refusing to take President Charles de Gaulle's "no" as a final answer to its proposal that France join with the United States and Britain in forming a NATO nuclear striking force.

The hope here is that the French attitude eventually will change. The U.S.-British project is just beginning and will take several years to carry through.

Undersecretary of State George W. Ball returned Tuesday from a week-long trip to Europe and said the United States is prepared to move ahead vigorously on formation of the force with or without French cooperation.

Other officials said privately that De Gaulle's stand does not command support generally in Western Europe. They also said that even though the United States intends to move ahead it does not intend to close the door to French cooperation in the future.

Ball is reporting to President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk on the results of his visit to Paris, where he talked with the 15-nation NATO council, and to Bonn where he met with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. It was understood that he was able to report the prospect for general cooperation of the NATO nations are good in spite of the French stand.

The hope here is that the French attitude eventually will change. The U.S.-British project is just beginning and will take several years to carry through.

Undersecretary of State George W. Ball returned Tuesday from a week-long trip to Europe and said the United States is prepared to move ahead vigorously on formation of the force with or without French cooperation.

Other officials said privately that De Gaulle's stand does not command support generally in Western Europe. They also said that even though the United States intends to move ahead it does not intend to close the door to French cooperation in the future.

Ball is reporting to President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk on the results of his visit to Paris, where he talked with the 15-nation NATO council, and to Bonn where he met with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. It was understood that he was able to report the prospect for general cooperation of the NATO nations are good in spite of the French stand.

Longer Run For The Money

We have no idea what follow-through incoming Gov. James A. Rhodes will make on his dismissal of state employes hired since Sept. 15.

But insofar as it is an indication of intent to trim the state payroll permanently, the idea looks mighty attractive to taxpayers wondering about the tendency of government to grow by leaps and bounds while private enterprise must grow by squiggles and squirts.

In Washington, Rep. Frank T. Bow of the 16th Ohio district has hit the same responsive chord in taxpayers' hearts with a bill to cut the federal payroll by forbidding department heads to replace employes who quit or retire.

THESE ARE severe measures. Some state employes hired since Sept. 15 were topnotch. Some of the replacements who will get on the federal payroll to keep the manpower level ever-higher will be better than the people they replaced.

What makes the idea of payroll shrinking attractive to taxpayers is that only in government is there an uncurbed tendency to pile new employes on payrolls. Nowhere else does such a thing happen. It would be unthinkable in any well-managed business.

In all places where management must make ends meet, payrolls fluctuate. Nobody gets a job merely because someone is of the opinion that one more jobholder would make things easier.

It is assumed that all jobholders will be able to justify their hire. Payrolls do not increase when deficits are being incurred.

There is a process in private enterprise known as "trimming the fat." It happens when the enterprise enters upon lean times. Miraculous results are common, such as the discovery that Parkinson's Law works in reverse.

PARKINSON'S LAW says work expands to fit the time allotted for its performance. In reverse, it says work shrinks to fit the manpower available for its performance.

The fact is that in some places at some times people are drawing pay on state payrolls just for being there. They perform no useful work. We never hear about them; the stress always is on the places where the state is short of help.

We don't know how Gov. Rhodes intends to follow through on the payroll trimming he has ordered. But we wish him well in this and all his other ideas for giving taxpayers a longer run for their money.

Proper Approach

While The Review believes the hiring and firing of high school athletic coaches should be left in the hands of school officials, it at the same time feels that the fans have every right to express their opinions in a proper manner.

It cannot, however, condone unjustified, vicious sniping. This accomplishes nothing and only adds to whatever confusion might exist.

It was refreshing, therefore, to read of the sensible approach taken by a group of Wellsville fans at a Board of Education meeting Monday night. There was no ranting and raving as they discussed the athletic situation, merely a presentation of opinion.

We're in no position to comment as to whether the conclusions offered were right or wrong or as to whether the group's action was called for. But we do feel qualified to suggest that if fans anywhere think it's time to get into the coaching act that they follow the course taken by the group at Wellsville rather than mumble and grumble behind the scenes.

Training For Foreign Service

A friend of ours has been telling us about a friend of his with an idea that deserves attention.

The idea is a foreign service academy to train people for keeping peace in the international family. We train men for the Army, Navy and the Air Corps. We train them for the Coast Guard, even for the Merchant Marine.

But our foreign service must rely on applicants who take a shine to work they think would be interesting, though they may know little or nothing about it. Thereafter they must learn the ropes in a kind of on-the-job training that has played a part in giving young foreign service trainees a reputation as "cookie pushers" and "striped-pants" diplomats.

THIS STRIKES the friend of our friend as absurd, and he was cheered by the recent news that Dr. James A. Perkins, new president of Cornell University, had recommended a national academy of foreign affairs when he headed a special White House committee and was backed up by President Kennedy in this view.

A career diplomat needs special preparation, he points out. He should be well-qualified in the language arts. He needs to speak and write several foreign languages fluently.

He must have a mastery of logic, be thoroughly versed in history, sensitive to the arts and sciences and, above all, must understand objectivity.

It is his thought in this connection that foreign service officers who proved to be qualified should hold congressional commissions, similar to those held by military officers; that they would develop a sense of tradition out of their shared experiences as trainees.

The academy itself, the argument continues, would become a treasury of foreign service precedent and diplomatic tradition. The development of a diplomatic officer corps would discourage the expediency with which national administration sometimes have approached this responsibility.

ULTIMATELY, it would be as unthinkable to pay off a political debt by appointing an unqualified ambassador as to appoint an untrained individual to command a military operation. Foreign service would be elevated to professional status.

The friend of our friend has real enthusiasm for the idea, and the reason is obvious. He himself is a foreign service career man and presumably is describing what he believes would be an improvement in his own profession.

Granted that it isn't always customary to ask the advice of people who do the work, if the aim is to make their work more satisfying they are the best qualified experts.

A "fourth academy," to go with Annapolis, West Point and Denver, is an idea that won't be easy to talk down.

Two Heads . . .

Improved traffic control in the city's downtown business district seems inevitable during 1963 if the Municipal Traffic Commission and Council keep hammering away at the various problems.

With the commission recommending and Council giving considered judgment to its proposals, much can be accomplished.

This is not to suggest that Council should follow blindly all the commission's ideas. But it is to suggest that each proposal be analyzed fully before being adopted or discarded.

The old theory that two heads are better than one applies quite well in this case.

Tick Picker

By Truman Twill

Our Irish Setter and I were looking at one of her relatives who had won a gold-plated bone in a dog show.

She and I have been friends for more years than she can remember, though I don't mind admitting it has been 10. We understand each other.

"That's one of my relatives?" scoffed Tara. "What's he made up to represent — an Abdominal Showman?"

"I forgive the pun on the grounds you did not realize what you were saying," I murmured, hoping to pass over the incident without a scene.

"I realized exactly what I was saying," growled Tara. "What's all that ugly hair around his belly? Does it belong to him, or is he holding something for a friend."

"Show respect for your betters," I said sternly. "You wouldn't be allowed to carry this dog's leash. You aren't even listed in 'Who's Who of Dogdom,' and you are not behaving like a lady."

"Bear in mind, friend," said Tara softly, spitting out a wet burr she had toothed out of her tail, "that I am a registered representative of my breed, a three-time mother and a two-time loser — a double widow. If you want to make a game out of who can carry whose leash just where do you figure to end up with the Adams family?"

"What shows were they ever in?" I grunted. "Adamses, Shmadamses. It isn't who you are but what you are that matters. It's not who wins or loses but how you play the game."

"Come off it, Fideaux," snickered Tara. "No one's listening but me. You're not addressing the Young Mothers of the Girl Guides. You're talking to a tired old setter, remember — a three-time mother and a two-time loser. I still want to know what that beast is made up to look like with all that unsightly hair on his legs and belly. Doesn't he watch television?"

"Maybe he's led a sheltered life," I suggested, plucking another burr from Tara's belly. "But don't knock it. And don't knock him. That's what dog show people want Irish Setters to look like and it would behoove you to look like that or people will think you're a red-bone houndog, which I am not sure you aren't when you do vulgar things."

"All right, Mac, I'll unload what's on my mind," snapped Tara, showing her teeth. "Humans decide what a dog should look like and make us look like that. You cut off our hair one place and make it grow long other places. You carry on selective breeding to get mutts with pointed noses, square heads, deformed mouths and so on and first thing you know we don't recognize our own children.

"And to prove how nutsy you are you even do this to yourselves, then sob because you don't look like freaks that act in the movies, and cut up high jinks in the jet set.

"What you look like is ordinary people, which is what dogs look like when they are natural. Me, I'm an Irish Setter; it says so on my certificate. But I sure don't have all that unsightly hair on my body and none on my head. I'd play hell chasing rabbits in that get-up. And now if you'll give me a hand with a tick that has lodged itself in back of my ear, I'll stop before I wonder why you don't look like Rock Hudson and why your missus doesn't look like all the Gabor girls rolled into one, which I have been given to understand is what you might call a worthy ambition."

P.S.: I picked off the tick.

A Double Handful

U.S. Cargoes Aid Communists

By Victor Riesel

High officials in our government are pouring hundreds of thousands of American dollars a month into shipping companies which run vital Communist supplies to Communist Cuba and China, despite the battle of the quarantine and despite Mao Tse-tung's invasion of India.

Victor Riesel

This money comes in big sums through the Department of Agriculture. Next month, for example, the department will pay one NATO country ship owner more than $168,000 to haul heavy grain from a Gulf port to Bombay, India. This will go to the Norwegian owner of the freighter Hoegh Eagle.

It is scheduled to pick up our foreign aid cargo on Feb. 1 and arrive in Bombay about Feb. 25. For this passage to India it will be paid about $8.40 a ton for 20,000 tons of grain. Profit on this will be high.

YET THE HOEGH EAGLE carried supplies to Comunist China in 1962. It must also be realized that it could not profitably make the long trip to Caribbean and U. S. water unless its cargo hold was full for its return to Asia. There it will unload our grain and could easily pick up material for the Chinese Communists.

Thus the Department of Agriculture makes this possible. It loads up the Hoegh Eagle with "U.S. government-generated" cargo and pays for the freight and transportation under Public Law 480.

If the department did not do so, the "Eagle" would have to choose between our business and the Communists'. Obviously they'd choose us. We pay in hard currency—lots of American dollars. Thus the Peiping government would be deprived of at least one big ship bottom.

UNFORTUNATELY the "Eagle" does not fly alone. When the ransom ship African Pilot hove into Havana last month, its crew noticed at least seven NATO freighters in the Cuban harbor.

There also is the SS Pearl Haven. She, too, has been on the China run, and has supplied Cuba. Her owners picked up a neat $70,000 a few weeks ago. Our government paid her $5.90 a ton for carrying 12,000 tons of grain from Norfolk to Port Said—after she had been to the Soviet military base known as Cuba.

Let's not overlook the Liberian cargo carrier White Sea. Last year she was on the Cuban run—and may hit the Caribbean again soon. Between Nov. 19—not so many days after the crisis on the high seas—and Nov. 26 the ship hauled grain from Houston to Brazil.

I have a list of many other ships whose owners are dedicated to their freedom of the seas. Why not? At these rates and tonnage, a freighter can charge the United States about a quarter of a million dollars for one trip. Some of these ships actually have carried oil pipeline for their Peiping client. And oil—as well as stomachs—is what an army moves on.

BIG NATO country freighters now hit the Cuban ports at the rate of one a day. Obviously they take a load off the Soviet merchant marine ministry. This leaves the creaky Moscow freight fleet free to carry non-nuclear, but powerful weapons and other supplies to the Soviet base in Cuba.

One man whom time has proven to be consistently accurate on intelligence from inside Cuba is New York's Sen. Keating. He told this columnist that it takes considerable Soviet shipping to keep their own military routinely supplied in Cuba.

"Soviet military strength in Cuba today," said Keating, "is nine times what it was July 1. Even after the bombers and missiles have been shipped back. Moscow has 20,000 troops there. They're on anti-aircraft.

"No Cuban troops have been trained for some of the modern strategic weapons. Russians have manned and controlled the fast rocket ships since last August. Russian airmen have exclusive control of advanced MIG fighter-bombers.

"The materiel is still pouring in. They're still bringing in tanks, trucks and the MIG fighters. Obviously they need big ships.

"I tell you that recently at least seven ships carried supplies to Cuba and then hit U.S. ports for cargo to make their round trips profitable."

THIS MEANS that ships which supplied the avowed enemy not only made big profits from our government—but deprived American shippers and American seafarers of profits and jobs.

Why can't our business people and workers handle these cargoes?

Somewhere someone in the government has lost touch with realism. Is there no appeal to reason—or is it lost?

Glaring Omissions

By David Lawrence

Vital Problems Ignored In Kennedy Speech

President Kennedy's annual message to Congress is inaccurately entitled "The State of the Union" for Mr. Kennedy omitted reference to some of the most important subjects confronting America today, particularly how the national economy shall be saved from disintegration due to the monopoly power being exercised by a bloc of labor unions.

David Lawrence

Millions of people in two major cities — New York and Cleveland — have had their newspapers suppressed. Financial losses to persons in business and to individuals out of work are heavy and are irreparable.

Nor did the President mention the strike that has tied up shipping for more than three weeks now in the ports of the East Coast and the Gulf of Mexico. Sen. Everett Dirksen, R-Ill., at least introduced a bill the same day to provide for compulsory arbitration of strikes in the maritime industry.

Not a single word appeared in the President's message, moreover, concerning the plight of the rank and file of American workers who are the victims of a lack of intelligent leadership.

The President has failed to come to grips with what has really been ailing America the last decade or more — the power of a single group to force prices upward, and the inability of the country immediately to absorb such price increases.

Basic economic ailments will not be cured by indifference. Mr. Kennedy in his message talked fluently about the economic development of the countries of Europe and of the problems faced by the underdeveloped countries.

HE SPOKE in generalities about social-welfare legislation in this country, but didn't make specific recommendations on many of the worth-while objectives he mentioned.

The President seemed to think that, by giving his support to a project for the reduction of taxes, he would be winning applause in the country. To promise a tax cut and to achieve one are, however, two different things.

The voters will get little comfort out of a tax cut if economic uncertainty prevails and if government spending continues as indicated, with the prospect of a record-breaking deficit in the U.S. Treasury next year.

Oddly enough, Mr. Kennedy seemed preoccupied with the idea that the nation at present may not be taking its problems seriously. He said, "in short, both at home and abroad, there may now be a temptation to relax."

One wonders whether the country is, after all, really in a relaxed mood and is indifferent to the dangers both at home and abroad.

As for the young people out of work, Mr. Kennedy seems to be despairing of ways to find productive jobs for them.

He appears to be reverting to one of the ideas of New Deal days, when the Civilian Conservation Corps was organized to take care of many of the younger persons who were unemployed.

The President thinks that the Peace Corps can do something of the same job.

He spoke of the million young Americans who are out of school and out of work and suggests that a domestic peace corps of some kind would serve "our own community needs: in mental hospitals, on Indian reservations, in centers for the aged or for young delinquents, in schools for the illiterate or the handicapped."

He said all this might enable these young men to serve the cause of "domestic tranquillity."

THE PRESIDENT had a heading on one section of his message which read: "We need to strengthen our nation by making the best and most economical use of its resources and facilities" but he did not really delve into this highly controversial field beyond stating that new transportation facilities are needed and that the stockpile of goods, including farm products, must be reduced.

In that phrase, "most economical use" of American resources and facilities, is rooted the present-day difficulties of the whole economic system.

The President did include in his address one sentence referring with disapproval to the "growing pressures" by labor leaders for a 35-hour week but the reason for the omission of any reference to labor - management difficulties throughout the country is not apparent unless it be that the subject is a highly controversial one and could cost the President votes in 1964.

The labor unions themselves are the biggest single organized group of voters in the country today and contributed not only energy but money to help the President win his election in 1960.

Mr. Kennedy not long ago attacked businessmen for trying to raise their prices. Yet he has never taken a positive stand with reference to the extreme demands of labor-union leaders evidenced, for instance, in the big strikes in New York City and other parts of the country.

AS LONG as one economic group can control the American system by fixing costs of production, which inevitably affect prices, there will not be a free-market system in the United States, and the law of supply and demand will not operate effectively to bring prosperity.

The government will find itself compelled to intervene as between labor and management if it really wants to stop recessions but such intervention will compound the evils of the present-day system unless it is impartial, objective and fair as between the rival forces.

Like Return To Normal

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

It was almost like a return to normal, after being away for a while, when French President Charles de Gaulle rebuffed both the United States and Britain this week.

The year 1963 had been going along much too quietly to give anybody an easy feeling. It wasn't natural.

Besides, while the Allies were just doing their usual mulling and muddling around with themselves, their two big antagonists, Russia and Red China, were abusing each other so hard it looked like a split.

This was a switch and, for the Allies, a wonderful way to start the new year. They were sitting back and enjoying it, most of them seemed relaxed.

But De Gaulle put everything back into balance at his news conference Monday. Even his timing was excellent for causing the most discomfort to anyone inclined to mention how nice things were, like President Kennedy.

He sounded off just a few hours before Kennedy was to deliver his State of the Union message to Congress.

It was a heart-warming Kennedy message, too, for those who longed for Allied brotherliness and would have been content to let the Communists monopolize both harshness and disunity.

The message had been written and distributed, although not delivered, before De Gaulle messed things up.

"How fares the grand alliance?" asked Kennedy rhetorically, blissfully unaware when he wrote the lines of what De Gaulle had in mind. "Free Europe is entering into a new phase of its long and brilliant history."

He said: "A new phase of interdependence and unity is taking shape.

"Defying the old prophecies of Marx, consenting to what no conqueror could ever compel, the free nations of Europe are moving toward a unity of purpose and power and policy in every sphere of activity."

Besides, if De Gaulle hadn't butted in before Kennedy could make his speech, the President would have had almost exclusive attention around the world. Nothing much else was happening that day, or so it seemed.

De Gaulle did two things by making his jarring pronouncements just a few hours before Kennedy spoke:

1. He forced the President to share the headlines with him and in some places, no doubt, took them away from him completely.

2. He put some of the Kennedy statements—particularly the business about unity—way out of focus.

W. C. Fields never stole a scene better.

ULTIMATELY, it would be as unthinkable to pay off a political debt by appointing an unqualified ambassador as to appoint an untrained individual to command a military operation. Foreign service would be elevated to professional status.

The friend of our friend has real enthusiasm for the idea, and the reason is obvious. He himself is a foreign service career man and presumably is describing what he believes would be an improvement in his own profession.

Granted that it isn't always customary to ask the advice of people who do the work, if the aim is to make their work more satisfying they are the best qualified experts.

A "fourth academy," to go with Annapolis, West Point and Denver, is an idea that won't be easy to talk down.

Two Heads . . .

Improved traffic control in the city's downtown business district seems inevitable during 1963 if the Municipal Traffic Commission and Council keep hammering away at the various problems.

With the commission recommending and Council giving considered judgment to its proposals, much can be accomplished.

This is not to suggest that Council should follow blindly all the commission's ideas. But it is to suggest that each proposal be analyzed fully before being adopted or discarded.

The old theory that two heads are better than one applies quite well in this case.

Tick Picker

By Truman Twill

Our Irish Setter and I were looking at one of her relatives who had won a gold-plated bone in a dog show.

She and I have been friends for more years than she can remember, though I don't mind admitting it has been 10. We understand each other.

"That's one of my relatives?" scoffed Tara. "What's he made up to represent — an Abdominal Showman?"

"I forgive the pun on the grounds you did not realize what you were saying," I murmured, hoping to pass over the incident without a scene.

"I realized exactly what I was saying," growled Tara. "What's all that ugly hair around his belly? Does it belong to him, or is he holding something for a friend."

"Show respect for your betters," I said sternly. "You wouldn't be allowed to carry this dog's leash. You aren't even listed in 'Who's Who of Dogdom,' and you are not behaving like a lady."

"Bear in mind, friend," said Tara softly, spitting out a wet burr she had toothed out of her tail, "that I am a registered representative of my breed, a three-time mother and a two-time loser — a double widow. If you want to make a game out of who can carry whose leash just where do you figure to end up with the Adams family?"

"What shows were they ever in?" I grunted. "Adamses, Shmadamses. It isn't who you are but what you are that matters. It's not who wins or loses but how you play the game."

"Come off it, Fideaux," snickered Tara. "No one's listening but me. You're not addressing the Young Mothers of the Girl Guides. You're talking to a tired old setter, remember — a three-time mother and a two-time loser. I still want to know what that beast is made up to look like with all that unsightly hair on his legs and belly. Doesn't he watch television?"

"Maybe he's led a sheltered life," I suggested, plucking another burr from Tara's belly. "But don't knock it. And don't knock him. That's what dog show people want Irish Setters to look like and it would behoove you to look like that or people will think you're a red-bone houndog, which I am not sure you aren't when you do vulgar things."

"All right, Mac, I'll unload what's on my mind," snapped Tara, showing her teeth. "Humans decide what a dog should look like and make us look like that. You cut off our hair one place and make it grow long other places. You carry on selective breeding to get mutts with pointed noses, square heads, deformed mouths and so on and first thing you know we don't recognize our own children.

"And to prove how nutsy you are you even do this to yourselves, then sob because you don't look like freaks that act in the movies, and cut up high jinks in the jet set.

"What you look like is ordinary people, which is what dogs look like when they are natural. Me, I'm an Irish Setter; it says so on my certificate. But I sure don't have all that unsightly hair on my body and none on my head. I'd play hell chasing rabbits in that get-up. And now if you'll give me a hand with a tick that has lodged itself in back of my ear, I'll stop before I wonder why you don't look like Rock Hudson and why your missus doesn't look like all the Gabor girls rolled into one, which I have been given to understand is what you might call a worthy ambition."

P.S.: I picked off the tick.

A Double Handful

U.S. Cargoes Aid Communists

By Victor Riesel

High officials in our government are pouring hundreds of thousands of American dollars a month into shipping companies which run vital Communist supplies to Communist Cuba and China, despite the battle of the quarantine and despite Mao Tse-tung's invasion of India.

Victor Riesel

This money comes in big sums through the Department of Agriculture. Next month, for example, the department will pay one NATO country ship owner more than $168,000 to haul heavy grain from a Gulf port to Bombay, India. This will go to the Norwegian owner of the freighter Hoegh Eagle.

It is scheduled to pick up our foreign aid cargo on Feb. 1 and arrive in Bombay about Feb. 25. For this passage to India it will be paid about $8.40 a ton for 20,000 tons of grain. Profit on this will be high.

YET THE HOEGH EAGLE carried supplies to Comunist China in 1962. It must also be realized that it could not profitably make the long trip to Caribbean and U. S. water unless its cargo hold was full for its return to Asia. There it will unload our grain and could easily pick up material for the Chinese Communists.

Thus the Department of Agriculture makes this possible. It loads up the Hoegh Eagle with "U.S. government-generated" cargo and pays for the freight and transportation under Public Law 480.

If the department did not do so, the "Eagle" would have to choose between our business and the Communists'. Obviously they'd choose us. We pay in hard currency—lots of American dollars. Thus the Peiping government would be deprived of at least one big ship bottom.

UNFORTUNATELY the "Eagle" does not fly alone. When the ransom ship African Pilot hove into Havana last month, its crew noticed at least seven NATO freighters in the Cuban harbor.

There also is the SS Pearl Haven. She, too, has been on the China run, and has supplied Cuba. Her owners picked up a neat $70,000 a few weeks ago. Our government paid her $5.90 a ton for carrying 12,000 tons of grain from Norfolk to Port Said—after she had been to the Soviet military base known as Cuba.

Let's not overlook the Liberian cargo carrier White Sea. Last year she was on the Cuban run—and may hit the Caribbean again soon. Between Nov. 19—not so many days after the crisis on the high seas—and Nov. 26 the ship hauled grain from Houston to Brazil.

I have a list of many other ships whose owners are dedicated to their freedom of the seas. Why not? At these rates and tonnage, a freighter can charge the United States about a quarter of a million dollars for one trip. Some of these ships actually have carried oil pipeline for their Peiping client. And oil—as well as stomachs—is what an army moves on.

BIG NATO country freighters now hit the Cuban ports at the rate of one a day. Obviously they take a load off the Soviet merchant marine ministry. This leaves the creaky Moscow freight fleet free to carry non-nuclear, but powerful weapons and other supplies to the Soviet base in Cuba.

One man whom time has proven to be consistently accurate on intelligence from inside Cuba is New York's Sen. Keating. He told this columnist that it takes considerable Soviet shipping to keep their own military routinely supplied in Cuba.

"Soviet military strength in Cuba today," said Keating, "is nine times what it was July 1. Even after the bombers and missiles have been shipped back. Moscow has 20,000 troops there. They're on anti-aircraft.

"No Cuban troops have been trained for some of the modern strategic weapons. Russians have manned and controlled the fast rocket ships since last August. Russian airmen have exclusive control of advanced MIG fighter-bombers.

"The materiel is still pouring in. They're still bringing in tanks, trucks and the MIG fighters. Obviously they need big ships.

"I tell you that recently at least seven ships carried supplies to Cuba and then hit U.S. ports for cargo to make their round trips profitable."

THIS MEANS that ships which supplied the avowed enemy not only made big profits from our government—but deprived American shippers and American seafarers of profits and jobs.

Why can't our business people and workers handle these cargoes?

Somewhere someone in the government has lost touch with realism. Is there no appeal to reason—or is it lost?

Glaring Omissions

Vital Problems Ignored In Kennedy Speech

President Kennedy's annual message to Congress is inaccurately entitled "The State of the Union" for Mr. Kennedy omitted reference to some of the most important subjects confronting America today, particularly how the national economy shall be saved from disintegration due to the monopoly power being exercised by a bloc of labor unions.

David Lawrence

Millions of people in two major cities — New York and Cleveland — have had their newspapers suppressed. Financial losses to persons in business and to individuals out of work are heavy and are irreparable.

Nor did the President mention the strike that has tied up shipping for more than three weeks now in the ports of the East Coast and the Gulf of Mexico. Sen. Everett Dirksen, R-Ill., at least introduced a bill the same day to provide for compulsory arbitration of strikes in the maritime industry.

Not a single word appeared in the President's message, moreover, concerning the plight of the rank and file of American workers who are the victims of a lack of intelligent leadership.

The President has failed to come to grips with what has really been ailing America the last decade or more — the power of a single group to force prices upward, and the inability of the country immediately to absorb such price increases.

Basic economic ailments will not be cured by indifference. Mr. Kennedy in his message talked fluently about the economic development of the countries of Europe and of the problems faced by the underdeveloped countries.

HE SPOKE in generalities about social-welfare legislation in this country, but didn't make specific recommendations on many of the worth-while objectives he mentioned.

The President seemed to think that, by giving his support to a project for the reduction of taxes, he would be winning applause in the country. To promise a tax cut and to achieve one are, however, two different things.

The voters will get little comfort out of a tax cut if economic uncertainty prevails and if government spending continues as indicated, with the prospect of a record-breaking deficit in the U.S. Treasury next year.

Oddly enough, Mr. Kennedy seemed preoccupied with the idea that the nation at present may not be taking its problems seriously. He said, "in short, both at home and abroad, there may now be a temptation to relax."

One wonders whether the country is, after all, really in a relaxed mood and is indifferent to the dangers both at home and abroad.

As for the young people out of work, Mr. Kennedy seems to be despairing of ways to find productive jobs for them.

He appears to be reverting to one of the ideas of New Deal days, when the Civilian Conservation Corps was organized to take care of many of the younger persons who were unemployed.

The President thinks that the Peace Corps can do something of the same job.

He spoke of the million young Americans who are out of school and out of work and suggests that a domestic peace corps of some kind would serve "our own community needs: in mental hospitals, on Indian reservations, in centers for the aged or for young delinquents, in schools for the illiterate or the handicapped."

He said all this might enable these young men to serve the cause of "domestic tranquillity."

THE PRESIDENT had a heading on one section of his message which read: "We need to strengthen our nation by making the best and most economical use of its resources and facilities" but he did not really delve into this highly controversial field beyond stating that new transportation facilities are needed and that the stockpile of goods, including farm products, must be reduced.

In that phrase, "most economical use" of American resources and facilities, is rooted the present-day difficulties of the whole economic system.

The President did include in his address one sentence referring with disapproval to the "growing pressures" by labor leaders for a 35-hour week but the reason for the omission of any reference to labor - management difficulties throughout the country is not apparent unless it be that the subject is a highly controversial one and could cost the President votes in 1964.

The labor unions themselves are the biggest single organized group of voters in the country today and contributed not only energy but money to help the President win his election in 1960.

Mr. Kennedy not long ago attacked businessmen for trying to raise their prices. Yet he has never taken a positive stand with reference to the extreme demands of labor-union leaders evidenced, for instance, in the big strikes in New York City and other parts of the country.

AS LONG as one economic group can control the American system by fixing costs of production, which inevitably affect prices, there will not be a free-market system in the United States, and the law of supply and demand will not operate effectively to bring prosperity.

The government will find itself compelled to intervene as between labor and management if it really wants to stop recessions but such intervention will compound the evils of the present-day system unless it is impartial, objective and fair as between the rival forces.

Like Return To Normal

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

It was almost like a return to normal, after being away for a while, when French President Charles de Gaulle rebuffed both the United States and Britain this week.

The year 1963 had been going along much too quietly to give anybody an easy feeling. It wasn't natural.

Besides, while the Allies were just doing their usual mulling and muddling around with themselves, their two big antagonists, Russia and Red China, were abusing each other so hard it looked like a split.

This was a switch and, for the Allies, a wonderful way to start the new year. They were sitting back and enjoying it, most of them seemed relaxed.

But De Gaulle put everything back into balance at his news conference Monday. Even his timing was excellent for causing the most discomfort to anyone inclined to mention how nice things were, like President Kennedy.

He sounded off just a few hours before Kennedy was to deliver his State of the Union message to Congress.

It was a heart-warming Kennedy message, too, for those who longed for Allied brotherliness and would have been content to let the Communists monopolize both harshness and disunity.

The message had been written and distributed, although not delivered, before De Gaulle messed things up.

"How fares the grand alliance?" asked Kennedy rhetorically, blissfully unaware when he wrote the lines of what De Gaulle had in mind. "Free Europe is entering into a new phase of its long and brilliant history."

He said: "A new phase of interdependence and unity is taking shape.

"Defying the old prophecies of Marx, consenting to what no conqueror could ever compel, the free nations of Europe are moving toward a unity of purpose and power and policy in every sphere of activity."

Besides, if De Gaulle hadn't butted in before Kennedy could make his speech, the President would have had almost exclusive attention around the world. Nothing much else was happening that day, or so it seemed.

De Gaulle did two things by making his jarring pronouncements just a few hours before Kennedy spoke:

1. He forced the President to share the headlines with him and in some places, no doubt, took them away from him completely.

2. He put some of the Kennedy statements—particularly the business about unity—way out of focus.

W. C. Fields never stole a scene better.

Shelters Required For Horses, Ponies

Owners of horses and ponies today were reminded that shelter must be made available for any such animals kept outdoors and adequate food must be provided.

Columbiana County Humane Officer A. H. Fults of Salem said the remainder of the winter is expected to be especially hard on ponies because most pastures were eaten close last fall, and the price of hay is high.

"This is no excuse for abusing animals," Fults said, and added the Salem Area Humane Society and other agencies will be investigating any reports of starving ponies.

"A closed barn is not necessary," he said, "but animals must have a roof and a good windbreak available to the pasture where they are kept."

Steel Stockpiling Due In Case Of Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Iron age said today that some big steel users have given first signs of stockpiling plans as a hedge against a possible steel strike after Aug. 1.

To the extent this materializes, the bulge in business will represent a subtraction from later ordering, producing a boom-bust cycle similar to that experienced by the steel industry in 1962.

However, the metalworking weekly said influences were at work tending to encourage hesitation in advance ordering by many steel users. These include surplus procuring capacity and prospects for speedy deliveries, at least in the near-term future.

Frank Frederick Given Fire Chief Post At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Frank Frederick, 57, of 179 Glenwood Ave. began duties today as the new fire chief of the 35-member volunteer force, following his appointment Tuesday night by Mayor Robert Harding.

Frederick was named to the $425-a-month post after the Civil Service Commission certified grades from a recent exam in which he scored the top grade of 97. Mayor Harding said. Three others took the test.

Frederick, assistant line foreman with the city power plant, had been serving as acting chief, appointed in October after the death of Fire Chief Glenn Libert of a heart condition.

A nine year veteran with the department, he had worked with the city power plant crew since 1938, except for four years when he was an independent electrician. He is married and has a son and daughter.

All Goes Wrong In Holdup Effort

CHAMBLEE, Ga. (AP)—Detective Capt. Ted Wayne said Roy Alton Lane, 38, tried to rob the Peachtree Bank & Trust Co. Tuesday but everything went wrong.

Wayne said the man walked in, waved a pistol and ordered: "Put the money in a sack."

But Lane hadn't brought a sack. A bank employe started looking for one.

Then the gunman suddenly collapsed and bank employes tied him up—with a rope he had brought with him.

Lane, a onetime truck driver, was held for investigation of attempted bank robbery.

Frank Levi Phelps, 19, of 1706 Wooster Ave. was fined $50 and costs, with $25 suspended, when he pleaded guilty today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of operating an auto with an improper license plate.

Phelps was cited at 12:52 this morning at Pennsylvania and Central Aves. by Patrolman Jack Strobel, police said. Judge Chertoff suspended $25 of the fine on condition Phelps secures proper plates for his car.

Officer Strobel told the court Phelps was driving a 1955 Chevrolet with a plate issued to a 1956 Plymouth owned by another person.

Steel Stockpiling Due In Case Of Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Iron age said today that some big steel users have given first signs of stockpiling plans as a hedge against a possible steel strike after Aug. 1.

To the extent this materializes, the bulge in business will represent a subtraction from later ordering, producing a boom-bust cycle similar to that experienced by the steel industry in 1962.

However, the metalworking weekly said influences were at work tending to encourage hesitation in advance ordering by many steel users. These include surplus procuring capacity and prospects for speedy deliveries, at least in the near-term future.

The annual show of the East Liverpool Dahlia and Floral Society has been scheduled for Sept. 21-22 at Westgate School auditorium, it was announced at the society's meeting Monday night at the Potters Savings & Loan Co. annex.

J. T. Eccleston again will serve as chairman.

The Dahlia Society of Ohio will hold its show Sept. 16-17 at Higbee's in Cleveland, it was reported.

Plans for a membership drive in March were discussed with the society aiming to increase its membership to 200, a 100 per cent boost over 1962. A roster of members was distributed.

William Haugh will be chairman with Charles Glover, Frank Richmond and Michael Vohar as committeemen.

Frank V. Shone installed the new officers, including Leo C. Lawrence, president; Haugh, first vice president; Vohar, second vice president; Mrs. Dorothy Kountz, recording secretary; William Craine of Smiths Ferry, corresponding secretary; Miss Susan Lewis, financial secretary, and Glover, treasurer.

Radio Club Will Investigate TV Interference Complaints

Television interference was discussed at a meeting of the Triangle Amateur Radio Club Monday night at the Smith St. quarters, and a committee to investigate complaints was appointed.

Members reported recent complaints from owners of television sets about interference believed caused by amateur shortwave operators.

One source of interference was an amateur — not a club member — whose own television set was not bothered, indicating he was operating within the prescribed methods approved by the Federal Communications Commission.

It was explained that interference can be caused by licensed "hams" and also by operators of Citizen Band radios.

In some cases the radio operator is not properly operating equipment, and offending signals interfere with TV reception.

However, in the majority of incidents, the fault lies with an improperly filtered TV set, and the interference can be halted by adding a low cost filter available from either the manufacturer or local electronics stores, the club said.

A committee was appointed by Glenn Waight, president, to investigate reports of interference and to advise television set owners on means of correcting the conditions or helping locate the offending source of intereference if there is one.

On the committee are D. G. Wilkinson, Charles Burke, Jack Alpern and Ron Keys.

Discussion was held on projects for the coming year.

Next meeting is Jan. 28.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Down the chimney went Ray Tallman. He got stuck at the bottom. Rescue crews with sledge hammers got him out.

It happened Tuesday at a bar at Sweetwater, west of Miami. Police Chief Jack Knight said Tallman told him the bar was closed when he got there, so he tried the chimney route.

The chimney was 12 inches square on top, but tapered to 8 inches below, and the 140-pound Tallman couldn't make it.

Tallman, 40, was charged with breaking and entering.

Woman Motorist Involved Twice In Same Mishap

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Chloe Elhoff, 65, had a Tuesday afternoon auto accident in which she was involved twice, once as a motorist and once as a pedestrian.

Police said Mrs. Elhoff's car collided with another at a city intersection. Witnesses told police she was thrown to the ground.

Apparently uninjured, she started to get up. As she did, her own driverless auto knocked her down. Witnesses said its wheels evidently had locked and it made a circle in the wide intersection.

Even after hitting the pavement the second time, Mrs. Elhoff assured police she was unhurt and was taken home.

Police said Mrs. Elhoff's car collided with another at a city intersection. Witnesses told police she was thrown to the ground.

Apparently uninjured, she started to get up. As she did, her own driverless auto knocked her down. Witnesses said its wheels evidently had locked and it made a circle in the wide intersection.

Even after hitting the pavement the second time, Mrs. Elhoff assured police she was unhurt and was taken home.

Fresh Blast To Prolong Frigid Spell

By The Associated Press

Another blast of sub-zero cold in the nation's midsection today indicated no immediate relief from a prolonged spell of frigid weather.

Unseasonable temperatures, except in some Southern sections, chilled most other parts of the nation.

The below-zero belt widened. Arctic air spread from the Midwest into the Northeast and temperatures dropped to sub-zero marks in parts of Ohio, northern New England and sections of New York State.

Low readings in the Northeast included -12 in Caribou, Maine; -10 in Lebanon, N.H., and Watertown, N.Y., and -9 in Massena, N.Y., and Old Town, Maine.

The most intense cold again was in the Midwest. In Wisconsin the mercury plunged to 35 below zero in Lone Rock, near Madison.

That compared with Tuesday's low of -44 and the nation's coldest reading, -50, in Black River Falls, Wis. Record readings for the date were reported in many cities.

Skies were generally clear in the extreme cold belt although snow flurries fell in sections of the Great Lakes.

Temperatures were at or near zero in most of New York State although New York City reported 22 above.

Warmer weather was on the way for much of southern Texas westward across the southern plateau region and into Southern California. The cold earlier had caused millions of dollars damage to citrus and vegetable crops in Texas and Southern California.

The cold and snow in the last week caused 60 deaths from exposure, asphyxiation, fires and traffic accidents.

Early morning readings were in the teens in Tennessee and northern fringes of Alabama and Georgia and mountain areas of North Carolina. Freezing marks extended to the extreme northwest tip of Florida. The 60s were reported in extreme southern Florida.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. *—When Gov. Orval E. Faubus' office staff gave him a player piano for Christmas, someone suggested that he play a tune.

"How about the Fifth Term Blues?" proposed an aide.

Faubus, who won a fifth term in the Nov. 6 election, countered: "How about the Sixth Term March?"

Bourbon From Corn

NEW YORK (AP)—If you're going to be a social success in 1963, you'll have to pep up your double-talk.

Practice makes perfect in double-talk, the art of saying what you don't mean—and meaning what you don't say. You can't trust to on-the-spot inspiration. You have to keep everlastingly at it.

For the beginners (and those who have failed to keep up their oral exercises in this form of non-communication), here are a few everyday examples of double-talk.

"We thought our daughter would feel more at home in a small community college." (The admissions people at Vassar, Radcliffe, Bryn Mawr, Wellesley and Smith thought so, too.)

"Maude is one woman who does not mind telling her age." (Not, that is, since she quit having birthdays 10 years ago.)

"Gee, boss, I'll never be able to understand where you get all your ideas." (You must be stealing them from somebody besides me.)

"Come right in, Joe. Long time no see," (I warned the receptionist to tell this guy I was away on a three-month trip.)

"I think you'll enjoy the corned beef, sir, it's our chef's special for today." (It didn't go very well yesterday or the day before.)

"Frankly, Jim, if you hadn't told me, I wouldn't even have known you had new dentures. (I thought all the members of your family sounded like that when they chewed celery.)"

"Your husband is so witty, Frances! Really, he should be on the stage." (Or is scaffold the word I'm groping for?)

"That child of yours is as smart as a tack." (And I'd like to be the first to put a hammer to him!)

"I insist pal, this one's on me." (Then you get the next one, old buddy, after the rest of the crowd arrives.)

"I'm sorry I can't tonight George, but I could go out with you Friday." (You do get paid on Fridays, don't you?)

"What kind of a woman do you think would marry you merely for your money?" (My kind!)

"Stick with me, kid, and you'll always travel first class." (After all, there's only one fare on the subway.)

"Well, congressman, glad you got re-elected. Good to see you back again. Washington wouldn't be the same without you." (I'll think of his name in just a minute.)

Man Injured On Car Door

A LaCroft man hurt on a car door and a newspaper pressman injured at work were among seven area residents treated at City Hospital today and Tuesday.

Robert Hall, 23, of 5th Ave., LaCroft, was treated early this morning for lacerations of the tip of a finger of the right hand when caught in a car door last night.

Mrs. Mildred Ward, 168 Laurel Ln., received lacerations of the left middle finger at work at the Homer Laughlin China Co.

Jeffrey Seevers, 1½, son of Jerry Seevers, 1627 Ohio Ave., was treated for an injury to the left knee suffered in a fall down steps.

Roger Clendenning, son of Raymond Clendenning, 3255 Harding Ave., was struck on the head by a ball at gym class at Westgate School.

William Massey, 17, son of Edward Massey, 1460 Ceramic St., was treated for a shoulder injury received playing basketball at the high school.

Mrs. Lola Williams, 2113 Harvey Ave., was treated yesterday morning for knee injuries suffered in two falls.

17 Hancock Farmers Sign For Wheat Plan

Seventeen farmers in Hancock County have signed to divert 66 acres from wheat production to conservation uses under the special voluntary 1963 wheat program.

The County Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Committee said the 17 farms represent 23 per cent of the 75 eligible for the program.

The winter wheat signup period closed Dec. 14. Farmers who participate must divert all the acreage signed up to be eligible for price support or for acreage diversion or price-supported payments.

Liquor Consumption Hit Record In 1962

WASHINGTON (AP) — Considerable progress was made in imbibing last year. More may lie ahead.

In 1962 liquor consumption in the United States soared to a record high of 252.5 million gallons —11 million gallons more than in 1961.

The Distilled Spirits Institute, reporting this Tuesday, said it expects a jump to 260 or 262 million gallons this year.

Ohio Senate Confirms Rhodes' Appointments

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The air has cleared a bit in the Ohio Senate. The fire and brimstone which had been around for a week disappeared Tuesday as the new governor's cabinet appointments were confirmed unanimously.

And, without a dissenting vote from Democrats who had complained they were being short-changed on patronage, secretarial appointments in the Senate were agreed upon. Senate Minority Leader Frank W. King, D-Lucas, said he had assurances of a fair share of patronage for Democrats.

The General Assembly was scheduled to call it quits today until next Monday after a day which saw Gov. James A. Rhodes address Republican caucuses in both houses. He reportedly assured Republican lawmakers of his cooperation with the GOP-controlled legislature.

He also said bills designed to keep his campaign promises are scheduled for prompt introduction. A measure to implement his program for new jobs and industrial development is ready, he said.

Just as the Senate was finishing the routine of confirming a dozen cabinet appointments by the new Republican governor, Rhodes announced the appointment of a 13th.

As the result of the unexpected resignation of State Personnel Director James T. Welsh, an appointee of former Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, Rhodes was able to appoint Wayne Ward of Columbus to head that department. Ward, a long-time Rhodes aide in the auditor's office, previously had been designated registrar of motor vehicles.

Ward will take over the unexpired term which Welsh vacated. It ends Feb. 13, 1965.

Department directors confirmed are: Richard L. Krabach, Lima, finance; Pearl E. Masheter, Columbus, highways; George W. Wilson, Akron, industrial and economic development; William O. Walker, Cleveland, industrial relations; William R. Morris, Columbus, insurance; Col. Erwin E. Hostetler, Kent, adjutant general; Denver L. While, Athens, welfare; Donald D. Cook, Columbus, liquor control; Martin A. Janis, Toledo, mental hygiene and correction; Fred E. Morr, Xenia, agriculture; Warren C. Nelson, Lebanon, highway safety, and Warren Chase, Cleveland, commerce.

Bill-introduction highlight of the day which saw another 25 measures introduced was one to permit local-option elections on Sunday operation of business. It came from Reps. Martin W. Feigert, D-Van Wert, and Jess Dempster, D-Tuscarawas.

It would give authority to voters in cities, villages and townships to approve the closing of any and all types of business on Sunday. To be placed on the ballot, such a proposal would require the signed petition of 15 per cent of the electors voting for governor in the last previous election in the affected area.

The bill is the second introduced so far to modify the state's blue laws.

So far, no Senate bills have been introduced. The flood will begin next week.

Practice Makes Perfect

Double-Talk Exemplified

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—If you're going to be a social success in 1963, you'll have to pep up your double-talk.

Practice makes perfect in double-talk, the art of saying what you don't mean—and meaning what you don't say. You can't trust to on-the-spot inspiration. You have to keep everlastingly at it.

For the beginners (and those who have failed to keep up their oral exercises in this form of non-communication), here are a few everyday examples of double-talk.

"We thought our daughter would feel more at home in a small community college." (The admissions people at Vassar, Radcliffe, Bryn Mawr, Wellesley and Smith thought so, too.)

"Maude is one woman who does not mind telling her age." (Not, that is, since she quit having birthdays 10 years ago.)

"Gee, boss, I'll never be able to understand where you get all your ideas." (You must be stealing them from somebody besides me.)

"Come right in, Joe. Long time no see," (I warned the receptionist to tell this guy I was away on a three-month trip.)

"I think you'll enjoy the corned beef, sir, it's our chef's special for today." (It didn't go very well yesterday or the day before.)

"Frankly, Jim, if you hadn't told me, I wouldn't even have known you had new dentures. (I thought all the members of your family sounded like that when they chewed celery.)"

"Your husband is so witty, Frances! Really, he should be on the stage." (Or is scaffold the word I'm groping for?)

"That child of yours is as smart as a tack." (And I'd like to be the first to put a hammer to him!)

"I insist pal, this one's on me." (Then you get the next one, old buddy, after the rest of the crowd arrives.)

"I'm sorry I can't tonight George, but I could go out with you Friday." (You do get paid on Fridays, don't you?)

"What kind of a woman do you think would marry you merely for your money?" (My kind!)

"Stick with me, kid, and you'll always travel first class." (After all, there's only one fare on the subway.)

"Well, congressman, glad you got re-elected. Good to see you back again. Washington wouldn't be the same without you." (I'll think of his name in just a minute.)

GI Who Suffered Under Laos Reds Will Be Honored

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C. (AP)—An American soldier who suffered privations and humiliations for more than a year while a prisoner of Communists in Laos will be honored here Thursday in Fayetteville's first Resolutions Day.

The community plans an annual Resolutions Day for publicly recognizing outstanding persons living in the area.

This year's honoree is Sgt. Orville R. Ballenger of nearby Ft. Bragg, who was released last August by Communist forces in Laos after 6 months of brutality and torture.

Sgt. Ballenger, a native of Columbus, Ohio, was captured in April 1961 while serving as an advisor to the royal Laotian forces. After his release he told of long months in dark prisons with meager food, little clothing and brutal guards. His release came through an agreement between opposing forces.

Cleveland Publishers, Guild Agree On Plan In Strike Issue

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Newspaper Guild and the publishers have agreed on a plan that they feel may solve the key union security issue in the 48-day-old strike against the city's two daily newspapers.

During a 3½-hour bargaining session Tuesday, the union and management decided to meet Thursday morning at the Press and News.

Union leaders and Press management will make an effort then to get 118 employes in the Press' commercial deparmtent to join the Guild if they want to. Some 160 of the 278 employes in the Press commercial department are Guild members.

Mayor Ralph Locher plans to make an appeal at that meeting.

The Guild and publishers planned to continue their talks at City Hall tonight. Teamsters Local 473, the other union on strike, has set another session for Thursday afternoon.

Management and the Teamsters also met Tuesday. The mayor reported progress in that session.

The Inter-Union Publishing Corp. consisting of nine craft unions at both papers—has announced plans to publish a daily newspaper in cooperation with the Guild for the duration of the strike. The morning paper, to be called the Cleveland Record, will sell for 10 cents and be published daily except Thursday and Sunday. John Blair of the Plain Dealer staff was named editor.

The announcement said non-striking Teamsters Local 407 will deliver the paper to newsstands and other outlets in the areas beginning Monday. An initial press run of 120,000 is planned.

Ten years ago 20,000 Hollanders left for Brazil and last year another 120,000 left for Australia and New Zealand.

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Presbytery of Cincinnati has gone on record as favoring a ban against religious exercises in public schools. This would include Bible readings and public prayers.

Also among the recommendations:

—"United Presbyterians (should) not try to make existing laws more stringent in their prohibitions of Sunday activities nor seek to pass such laws where they do not exist."

Council Gets Report

Wellsville Salary Hikes Requested

Salary hikes of $50 monthly for two firemen and $60 for the two officers were asked of Wellsville City Council Tuesday night by Fire Chief Robert W. Lewis.

Lewis also suggested that Council consider the purchase of a new pumper truck to replace a 13-year-old vehicle and enact a bond issue for one-year to finance it.

—:—

THE REQUESTS were contained in the annual yearend report of the department, prepared by Chief Lewis.

Council acted by scheduling a caucus meeting Tuesday night between its ordinance committee and Chief Lewis to discuss the request for a new truck.

The proposed salary increases for Chief Lewis and Robert C. Lloyd, assistant chief, and Firemen Frank F. Fusco and William S. Haugh will be discussed at another caucus meeting Monday night at 7 in the office of Mayor W. W. Daugherty.

The firemen are to be covered in the mayor's proposal to provide pay hikes for all city employes, to be financed from the interest realized from an investment and revenue from increases in property valuation.

IN HIS letter, Lewis declared that "the firemen receive a salary equivalent to $1.62 hourly. There is no such thing as time and a half, holidays, Sundays, or hospitalization."

"Compared with other jobs right in our own city, the firemen received about 30 cents an hour less than the Police Department, and 5 cents less than truck drivers.

"The take-home pay of these men is pitiful and they simply cannot live on it. The pay differential for officers is woefully low," Chief Lewis added.

Lewis said he made the request for purchase of a new truck for the third year. "Our present first-line pumper is now 13 years old and we must keep our fire defenses up," he said.

—:—

HE ADDED the present pumper was purchased by a one-year bond levy and has paid for itself many times in savings to citizens.

"If Council can find no other way in which to finance the purchase of new motor apparatus, may I suggest that perhaps we may do the same at this time," he said.

Lewis also voiced disappointment that Council had not enacted legislation governing the installation of heat - producing appliances. He asked Council to prepare rules to provide additional protection from danger of fires.

The chief also said that the department must have installed by Oct. 31 radio equipment switched to narrow band transmission and separate frequency operation from the police department. It has been discussed in the past.

HIS YEAREND report listed department activities. Firemen responded to 93 alarms during 1962 and the calls ranged from a high of 13 in April to one the following month. Forty-five were between noon and 6 p. m. and 71 were made by phone.

Thirty-one fires were at dwellings, 17 at mercantile outlets, 16 in autos and trucks, 14, grass and rubbish, six in garages and nine of miscellaneous nature.

Lewis listed $12,300 damage to buildings and $11,150 to contents during the year. Value of buildings endangered by fire was $154,100 and to contents, $55,000.

—:—

HE RECOMMENDED that new equipment purchased include 500 feet of 2½-inch hose, 200 feet of 1½-inch hose, two fire coats, two pair of fire boots and other protective equipment. Repair and inspection of plumbing and repainting of the equipment room floor in the fire station was also recommended.

Negro Candidate, 28, Topped White Rivals

DEERFIELD BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Emanuel Knowles, 28, the first Negro ever to run for the Deerfield Beach City Commission, drew more votes than any of the six white candidates in the primary election.

Knowles, a contractor, and the next five ranking vote-getters in Tuesday's primary will contest for three commission seats in the regular election Jan. 29.

Deerfield Beach is a small East Coast town about 35 miles north of Miami. It had 3,327 registered voters, including 813 Negroes.

Knowles polled 748 votes. The runnerup was Robert Craig, who got 686.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: This is no phony letter. It's strictly on the level and I need your opinion. A social craze has hit this town. It's called "Mix-Mates." The invitation we received yesterday read as follows:

"You are cordially invited for cocktails and dinner at Bill and Mary X's home on January 25th. But you may not come with your husband. He is invited, of course, but he must escort someone else's wife. You will not know the identity of your escort until he arrives.

"Your husband will receive a phone call soon assigning a date. But it must be a deep, dark secret and he is not to tell anyone —not even you. Of course you will be escorted home by the man who brought you. R.S.V.P."

I don't want to be a wet firecracker but the whole idea offends me. My husband says it's novel and should be fun. What would we tell our teen-age children about such a party? Help. Please.—FRAIDY CAT.

Dear Fraidy: Tell your teenage children that married people go to parties together and they come home together, which is why you and their father cannot accept this tasteless and revolting invitation.

There's enough extramarital hanky - panky without changing partners for kicks and calling it novelty night.

Driver Law Reform

Dear Ann: Your column is an excellent forum for presenting issues to the public. I feel this one is sufficiently important to merit your support. I'm not selling anything—just trying to cut carnage and mutilation on highways and city streets.

Do you know who the REAL menaces are—the honest to'goodness threats to life and limb? It's not the teen-agers as you might belief—it's those old gaffers who got their drivers' licenses back in 1902, when they didn't even have to take a test. Year after year they send in for renewals and they get them.

My great uncle is 83 years old. He can't see across the living room. Half the time the battery in his hearing aid is dead and he doesn't know it. His lumbago is so bad he's on crutches most of the time. Yet the law says he can drive from New York to California if he feels like it.

How about crusading for some sensible legislation?—F. J.

Dear F.J.: Most states, I am happy to report, have abandoned the antiquated system of renewing driving licenses automatically.

In Illinois, for example, all drivers who reach the age of 70 must take a test as if they were beginners. Since this column appears in 50 states I would be interested in learning which states still have the horse and buggy laws. If you will let me know, maybe we can shame them into action.

Queen Etiquette

Dear Ann: There's a woman who works in this office who thinks she is Queen Elizabeth. Her desk is on the aisle. Since she has been here since the Year One, the boss, out of respect for old age, introduces her to all the big shots who come this way.

It is sickening the way she gets up, and extends her hand with a regal flourish. Isn't this bad manners? Shouldn't a woman remain seated and wait for the gentleman to extend HIS hand? How about putting the ignoramus straight?—B.D. AND C.

Dear B.D.: Sorry, but the Queen is right. It's perfectly proper for a woman to stand at her desk when being introduced to a person of importance. And, of course, the woman always extends her hand first.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Late 1965 Date Set To Finish Expressway

CINCINNATI (AP) — Present plans call for completing the Northeast Expressway — the section of Interstate 71 in Hamilton County—by late 1965.

City Manager C. A. Harrell said Tuesday night that a decision by the Federal Bureau of Public Roads that the air space above the expressway belongs to Cincinnati and not to the state of Ohio cleared another obstacle from the road-building.

Investigation Opened In 11-Car Derailment

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—An investigation is under way to determine the cause of a derailment of 11 cars of a 96-car Detroit, Toledo & Ironton Railroad freight five miles south of here.

More than 600 feet of track was ripped up Tuesday. There were no injuries. The train was en route from Springfield to Ironton.

Talks Resume In New York Paper Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiators for 3,000 striking printers and nine closed New York dailies return to the bargaining table today for another effort at ending the longest newspaper blackout in this city's history.

The resumption of peace talks —first joint negotiations since last weekend—falls on the 40th day of the newspaper famine.

The city's nine major newspapers, with a combined circulation of 5½ million copies a day, have been out of print since Dec. 8 when Local 6 of the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union went on strike against four of them. The other five then closed down voluntarily.

Union members in many trades massed outside the New York Times Tuesday to demonstrate their support of the striking printers. Union officials estimated the crowd numbered as many as 25,000; police put the figure at about 8,000.

Bertram A. Powers, president of the printers' local, was given a big ovation by the demonstrators.

Members of other unions who work in the newspaper plants have refused to cross the printers' picket lines. Six of these unions are in the process of bargaining with the publishers for new contracts. One of them, the mailers, joined the printers' strike last week.

Some progress was reported Tuesday in negotiations between the photo-engravers and the publishers.

Nearly 20,000 newspaper people are out of work here because of the shutdown.

In Cleveland, 3,000 newspaper workers have been idle for 48 days because of a strike by two unions that has closed the Ohio city's two dailies.

Cleveland Mayor Ralph Locher described as significant the results of a 3½-hour meeting between officials of the striking Cleveland Newspaper Guild, AFL-CIO, and publishers of the Plain Dealer and the Press & News.

"There definitely was some progress," he said, and gave a similar report for a simultaneous City Hall meeting of the publishers and the independent Teamsters Union, also on strike.

Chief issue in the Teamsters negotiations is improved working conditions for 455 delivery drivers. Main stumbling block in the Guild contract dispute is a union security issue involving the 278 commercial department employes of the Press & News.

Firemen To Hold Fete At Midland

Plans were discussed for the annual carnival at the meeting of Midland volunteer fire company No. 1 Monday night at the Borough Building.

The carnival is tentatively slated for the first week of July.

Firemen also reviewed Christmas activities and decided to continue the visit of Santa Claus to firemen's homes to distribute gifts to children.

They also agreed to continue and expand Christmas decorations in Lincoln Park. Mike Borato will remain in charge and residents were asked to contact him before disposing of any outdoor strings of Christmas lights.

Firemen said Borato will recondition the strings so they can be used for park decorations.

Tony Monaco, president, presided. Officers will be elected at the meeting Feb. 11.

Farmers May Obtain Guide On Income Tax

LISBON — The 1963 farmer's income tax guide is available at the Co-operative Extension Service Office, according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

The 62-page guide explains depreciation schedules, farm business expenses and receipts, which are to be filed and gives examples of computing various sections of the farm report.

Farm producers must file their final income tax return by Feb. 15, unless they filed and submitted an estimated tax return. Those submitting estimated returns have until April 15 to submit the final return, Myers said.

Youngstown Concern Plans Weirton Plant

WEIRTON — An office and warehouse facility is to be established in the Half-Moon industrial area of Weirton by Emanuel Katzman and Co. Inc., of Youngstown, in its fifth year as a dealer in Stran-Steel buildings in the Tri-State Area.

Allan Katzman, president, said the firm has been deeded more than a half-acre of land by National Steel Corp., parent firm of Weirton Steel Co., and will construct a 36-x-60-foot building on the site adjacent to the new Phelps Can Co. plant. Work is expected to begin in four to six weeks.

It took the Congress three weeks and 63 ballots to elect a speaker in 1849. After a bitter fight, Howell Cobb of Georgia was chosen by a plurality instead of a majority, as is usually the case.

Wood Countian Is Convicted Of Slaying Brother

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) —A Wood County Common Pleas Court jury has convicted Michel Flames, 42, of second - degree murder in the slaying last July 4 of his brother, Marcel, 48.

Tuesday's finding calls for possible life imprisonment for the Portage Twp. man charged with the shooting he maintained was accidental.

Marcel, who lived nearby, went to Michel's and an argument ensued over sale of some corn. The shooting resulted, but Marcel was able to drive away in his pickup truck although wounded in the back.

The younger Flames came upon his brother's truck where it had run into a ditch. He told Marcel's wife her husband had been in a traffic accident, then departed—for Canada—while she called police. Marcel died in a hospital later the same day.

Michel returned in a few days and was arrested and charged with the killing.

About 85 per cent of the nation's public school boards are elected and the remaining 15 per cent appointed, a study by the U.S. Office of Education has disclosed.

Collier Is New Browns Coach

★ ★ ★

Assistant Replaces Brown

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

CLEVELAND (AP) — Blanton Collier was named head coach of the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League today.

Harold Sauerbrei, business manager of the team, was named general manager.

A guessing game as to who will direct the fortunes of the National Football League club has been going on since Paul Brown was fired as coach and general manager last Wednesday. Brown had served in both capacities since the Browns were organized in 1946.

Collier, 56, was a member of the original coaching staff of the Browns, but left the club in 1954 to become head coach at the University of Kentucky. He rejoined the team as backfield coach after he was removed from his college post following the 1961 season.

Arthur B. Modell, Browns' president, said he hoped to announce the new coaching staff and general manager at a news conference today. He has kept secret his choice of a new field boss but said Tuesday that he has had several conversations with Collier.

Two newspapers reported Tuesday that Collier already had signed a contract as the Browns' coach.

Leo Brauer, sports editors of the Daily Enterprise at Paris, Ky., writes that Collier had been signed. Collier was a high school coach at Paris and has close relatives there.

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram quoted Ray Renfro, veteran Cleveland halfback, as saying he had received a telephone call from Bernie Parrish, the team's player representative, informing him that Collier had signed as coach Monday.

Harris Drops In Key Goal

Review Sports Writer

Whew!

That was a sigh of relief breathed by Wellsville High's Tigers after a stiff struggle to record their seventh victory in eight games.

Zip.

That was the shot fired from 16 feet deep in the key area by Forrest Harris, 6-3 forward, with nine seconds remaining that provided it.

—:—

VICTORIES can't come much closer for the Tigers, who nudged Weirton Madonna, 57-56, Tuesday night before a small crowd at the Madonna gymnasium.

The winning goal by the veteran Harris climaxed an uphill battle for Wellsville against the upsetminded Blue Dons.

They fell behind early—trailing by 31-19 at one time in the second quarter — but overtook Madonna with a flurry in the third and eked out the victory as the second ticked away at the end.

The lead exchanged hands eight times in the frantic fourth quarter and Wellsville appeared doomed until Harris pumped in the winning goal.

THE BLUE DONS, now 4-5, proved a tough customer for the towering Tigers of Coach Jack McDevitt and stayed in contention until the very end despite losing their two big men on personal fouls.

Bob Tisch, 6-3 senior, departed with 4:30 left in the third quarter and husky center Gene Trosch, 6-5 senior, fouled out with 6:16 left in the game.

Even without their top rebounders, the Blue Dons stayed right with Wellsville and it took strong second half performances by Ed Nelson, 6-3 forward, Steve Baldwin, 6-5 center, and Harris' winning shot to clinch it.

—:—

NELSON led Wellsville's attack with 18 points, with 12 coming in the rousing second half.

It was Nelson and Baldwin, plus Milt Martin, 6-3 senior, who brought Wellsville from behind with a third quarter rally.

Behind 35-28 at halftime, the Tigers went to work on the deficit and reeled off 12 straight points to take a 40-35 lead with 4:30 left in the quarter.

Madonna was held to only five points in the third quarter, but stayed in the battle on jump shots by Stan Zgurski, 5-10 guard who hit consistently from deep in the back court.

ZGURSKI hit his specialty with less than three minutes remaining to put Madonna in front, 52-51, his final fielder of the game.

Wellsville's Nelson retaliated from the corner but Fornai hit from the key to give Madonna the lead once again, 54-53.

The Tigers then lost possession when the official charged violation of the over-and-back rule at midcourt but Nelson tied up Fornai with a jump ball with 40 seconds left and Madonna leading by 54-53.

On the tip, Wellsville regained control and moved upcourt on the attack. The Tigers went ahead, 55-54, with 30 seconds remaining on Nelson's jump shot from the foul line.

—:—

WEIRTON refused to settle for a narrow loss, moving on the attack and going ahead on Runkel's shot from in close to take command for the final time, 56-55.

Only nine seconds remained on the clock when Harris scored on a jump shot for Wellsville. Weirton had time to move upcourt and try a few desperate shots, but failed to connect.

The game turned out to be a carbon copy of the battle two years back, only this time the fates chose a different winner. Weirton won that one on a field goal in the last few seconds.

—:—

WELLSVILLE fired 37 per cent from the floor, hitting 23 of 61 shots. But the Tigers could have won it more easily had they made more than 11 of 24 free throws.

Andy Dash, 5-10 senior, was the only foul casualty for Wellsville, although Harris played through the entire second half with four personals.

Coach Joe Krivak's Blue Dons hit 40 per cent of their shots—20 of 50—and accounted for 16 points in 25 attempts at the free throw line.

Zgurski hit 15 points to lead the losers, while Fornai had 12 and the big Trosch nine.

REGULAR guard Jim Powell of Wellsville watched the action from the sidelines, shelved by an injured leg. Filling the vacancy was Alvin Thompson, 5-10 senior.

Besides Nelson, Baldwin and Harris also collected double figures with 13 and 10 points each. Martin had eight in his best game in several weeks, while Dash contributed four and one neat assist.

In the preliminary, the Tiger fans saw Coach Chick McMillan's Reserves turn in another tremendous team effort to whip Weirton Madonna, 62-53.

McMILLAN'S youngsters also had to fight from behind for the victory and everyone who saw action looked sharp. The Tiger reserves counted their seventh victory against a lone loss. Weirton's reserves went down to defeat for only the second time this year.

Terry Flesch, 6-3 junior, led Wellsville with 22 points, but received considerable help from Lester Bennett, playmaker, and Melvin Pullie who accumulated 14 each.

—:—

BILL MINEARD and Bob Messick added eight points apiece to the Lion attack. Mineard hit on four field goals, all of them coming from the outside. Messick canned three field goals and two of six free throws.

Both teams shot 36 per cent from the field. Midland sank 23 of 64 attempts while New Brighton swished 16 of 45.

A strong second half showing by the Leopards netted them the win. Leading by a slim 25-21 margin at halftime, Hank Kuzma's charges outscored New Brighton, 32-20, in the final two periods for their margin of victory.

—:—

NEW BRIGHTON started fast and led Midland, 13-8, at the close of the opening period. As the second quarter began, the Leopards went into a half - court press and finally tied the score at 17-17, when Vanlier converted a free throw with 4:53 left in the half.

Mineard and Perkins exchanged jump shots before Vanlier put Midland in the lead, 21-19, for the first time when he swished a jumper from the side.

Messick quickly tied the game but Ray Hoppa, 5-10 senior guard, put the Leopards in front to stay when he meshed a jump shot from the top of the key. Perkins added another jumper from the corner and Midland had a four - point bulge at halftime.

—:—

MIDLAND pulled out to a 34-25 lead early in the third period when Sallis sank a lay-up and a free throw and Vanlier added a jumper from the top of the foul circle.

The Lions managed to cut the Midland lead to six points, 39-33, at the end of the third quarter.

Perkins swished a short jumper and Sallis added two free throws to give Midland a 43-33 lead at the outset of the final period.

The Leopards moved their advantage to 47-35 when Perkins sank a fast - break lay - up after taking a long pass from Vanlier.

THE CLOSEST New Brighton managed to get to the Leopards in the final quarter was 49-41 with 1:43 remaining.

But the Lions could not tally a point in the last minute and a half while Midland tallied eight. Vanlier dropped in two free throws, Perkins swished a short jumper after taking another long pass from Vanlier, and Sallis added two layups to conclude the scoring.

Collier Is New Browns Coach

Assistant Replaces Brown

★ ★ ★

CLEVELAND (AP) — Blanton Collier was named head coach of the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League today.

Harold Sauerbrei, business manager of the team, was named general manager.

A guessing game as to who will direct the fortunes of the National Football League club has been going on since Paul Brown was fired as coach and general manager last Wednesday. Brown had served in both capacities since the Browns were organized in 1946.

Collier, 56, was a member of the original coaching staff of the Browns, but left the club in 1954 to become head coach at the University of Kentucky. He rejoined the team as backfield coach after he was removed from his college post following the 1961 season.

Arthur B. Modell, Browns' president, said he hoped to announce the new coaching staff and general manager at a news conference today. He has kept secret his choice of a new field boss but said Tuesday that he has had several conversations with Collier.

Two newspapers reported Tuesday that Collier already had signed a contract as the Browns' coach.

Leo Brauer, sports editors of the Daily Enterprise at Paris, Ky., writes that Collier had been signed. Collier was a high school coach at Paris and has close relatives there.

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram quoted Ray Renfro, veteran Cleveland halfback, as saying he had received a telephone call from Bernie Parrish, the team's player representative, informing him that Collier had signed as coach Monday.

Harris Drops In Key Goal

Review Sports Writer

Whew!

That was a sigh of relief breathed by Wellsville High's Tigers after a stiff struggle to record their seventh victory in eight games.

Zip.

That was the shot fired from 16 feet deep in the key area by Forrest Harris, 6-3 forward, with nine seconds remaining that provided it.

—:—

VICTORIES can't come much closer for the Tigers, who nudged Weirton Madonna, 57-56, Tuesday night before a small crowd at the Madonna gymnasium.

The winning goal by the veteran Harris climaxed an uphill battle for Wellsville against the upset-minded Blue Dons.

They fell behind early—trailing by 31-19 at one time in the second quarter — but overtook Madonna with a flurry in the third and eked out the victory as the second ticked away at the end.

The lead exchanged hands eight times in the frantic fourth quarter and Wellsville appeared doomed until Harris pumped in the winning goal.

THE BLUE DONS, now 4-5, proved a tough customer for the towering Tigers of Coach Jack McDevitt and stayed in contention until the very end despite losing their two big men on personal fouls.

Bob Tisch, 6-3 senior, departed with 4:30 left in the third quarter and husky center Gene Trosch, 6-5 senior, fouled out with 6:16 left in the game.

Even without their top rebounders, the Blue Dons stayed right with Wellsville and it took strong second half performances by Ed Nelson, 6-3 forward, Steve Baldwin, 6-5 center, and Harris' winning shot to clinch it.

—:—

NELSON led Wellsville's attack with 18 points, with 12 coming in the rousing second half.

It was Nelson and Baldwin, plus Milt Martin, 6-3 senior, who brought Wellsville from behind with a third quarter rally.

Behind 35-28 at halftime, the Tigers went to work on the deficit and reeled off 12 straight points to take a 40-35 lead with 4:30 left in the quarter.

Madonna was held to only five points in the third quarter, but stayed in the battle on jump shots by Stan Zgurski, 5-10 guard who hit consistently from deep in the back court.

ZGURSKI hit his specialty with less than three minutes remaining to put Madonna in front, 52-51, his final fielder of the game.

Wellsville's Nelson retaliated from the corner but Fornai hit from the key to give Madonna the lead once again, 54-53.

The Tigers then lost possession when the official charged violation of the over-and-back rule at midcourt but Nelson tied up Fornai with a jump ball with 40 seconds left and Madonna leading by 54-53.

On the tip, Wellsville regained control and moved upcourt on the attack. The Tigers went ahead, 55-54, with 30 seconds remaining on Nelson's jump shot from the foul line.

Expansion Slated For NBA Meeting

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The National Basketball Association's Board of Governors was expected to hear expansion proposals today.

Applications for franchises have been made in behalf of Philadelphia, Cleveland, Kansas City and Baltimore. The possibility exists that the NBA's annual meeting could adjourn without any definite action being taken, which would be tantamount to rejection of the applications.

Some NBA clubowners are opposed to expansion now on the ground that before any newcomer is strengthened by existing player stock the weaker teams already in the NBA should be strengthened. They also argue that the 1963 crop of players from the college ranks is not up to the usual standard.

The Board of Governors is studying a modified draft rule under which the weaker teams would be strengthened by taking a few players from the strong. Details have not been worked out, but the plan was said to have a fairly good chance of passage.

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

At long last, concerted action was taken by a group that includes the "Who's Who" of township and county officials and sportsmen organizations bringing a halt to the terrible form of pollution stemming from a chemical plant discharging violent wastes into Little Beaver Creek.

Our county agent, Floyd Lower, certainly had a big hand directing the attention to the state health commissioner, along with our local Health Department, according to the letters I forwarded to my district headquarters in Akron.

This is exactly what is needed to combat pollution of our streams in Columbiana County. Pressure should be brought by all people who believe in clean waters. This can never be overdone.

There is an organized spirit among conservation - minded people. But the job has just begun.

While you are at it, find out what can be done about the brickyard at Irondale, which has operated continuously, making a complete mess out of Little Yellow Creek and leaving the water unfit for any use by the people who depend upon this little creek.

INVESTIGATE the possibility of stopping the continuous flow of acid mine wastes near Negley since the strippers have moved out after opening up a No. 6 mine and made no effort to plug up the leak.

I also would like to call your attention to the culvert flowing into Ohio from Pennsylvania by an industrial waste company that has several filtration beds in Pennsylvania and possibly doing nothing in violation of the Pennsylvania laws that can be proven.

Yet there is a steady flow of some sort of pollution flowing directly out of Pennsylvania and finding its way into Beaver Creek at Negley.

This company owns several hundred acres of land just across the Ohio line and has built two beautiful fishing ponds, along with other recreational activities and a caretaker to look after their interests. You can bet none of this waste flows into their ponds. Ohio is getting it.

Since Columbiana County has such a well-organized group of conservation - minded people, I would like to suggest you explore the possibilities of a statewide organization in order to become more effective.

While you are at it, look into the laws concerning leveling of the land laid waste by strip-mining operations. Are they following the letter of the law? If so, do we need more effective legislation to stop digging the coal and in turn laying good land to waste?

I PAY TAXES on my little piece of land where I own my home. More and more land is being laid waste daily by the strippers. Therefore, more and more land is being practically removed from the tax duplicate.

The candle is being burnt on both ends, so the usable land is shrinking. The result. . .higher taxes on people who own good land.

Actually, we are being slapped on the pocketbook and kicked in the "bread basket" at the same time when good land is taken out of production. Could be we are going to need this land sooner than you think.

Keep one thing in mind, a stream that has once had the pollution stopped will come back with both fish and animal life in due time.

At the same time, we are not all fishermen. There are a lot of hunters who need help. When game habitat has been destroyed the game disappears. More damage has been done and still going on to game than fish by a long shot. You did a good job stopping the "parade", now get busy and see what can be done to stop the "big show", acres and acres of land waste.

Tulsa Surprises Wichita, 85-83

By The Associated Press

It was a few hours later than High Noon, but down in the valley known as the Basketball Badlands, two quick-draw guys matched shot for shot. When it was all over, eighth-ranked Wichita had been knocked off by tenacious Tulsa.

That's the way it went Tuesday night as Wichita's Ernie Moore and Tulsa's Jim King sank key baskets time after time until the Hurricane sharpshooter hit the target twice in succession and dropped Wichita 85-83 in double overtime.

Moore connected for two foul shots with 2 seconds left in regulation time for a 67-67 tie, the first time Wichita had pulled even since the opening seconds. Tulsa built a four-point lead with 50 seconds left in the first overtime before Dave Stallworth and Moore evened it again.

In overtime No. 2, King connected on two layups that gave Tulsa a lead it never relinquished. King finished with 18 points while Moore had 15. The high scorers were Bill Kusleika of Tulsa with 27 and Stallworth with 25.

It was Wichita's second loss in the Missouri Valley Conference, where everyone winds up chasing Cincinnati, and two losses just about tosses out your title chances.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The National Basketball Association's Board of Governors was expected to hear expansion proposals today.

Applications for franchises have been made in behalf of Philadelphia, Cleveland, Kansas City and Baltimore. The possibility exists that the NBA's annual meeting could adjourn without any definite action being taken, which would be tantamount to rejection of the applications.

Some NBA clubowners are opposed to expansion now on the ground that before any newcomer is strengthened by existing player stock the weaker teams already in the NBA should be strengthened. They also argue that the 1963 crop of players from the college ranks is not up to the usual standard.

The Board of Governors is studying a modified draft rule under which the weaker teams would be strengthened by taking a few players from the strong. Details have not been worked out, but the plan was said to have a fairly good chance of passage.

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

At long last, concerted action was taken by a group that includes the "Who's Who" of township and county officials and sportsmen organizations bringing a halt to the terrible form of pollution stemming from a chemical plant discharging violent wastes into Little Beaver Creek.

Our county agent, Floyd Lower, certainly had a big hand directing the attention to the state health commissioner, along with our local Health Department, according to the letters I forwarded to my district headquarters in Akron.

This is exactly what is needed to combat pollution of our streams in Columbiana County. Pressure should be brought by all people who believe in clean waters. This can never be overdone.

There is an organized spirit among conservation - minded people. But the job has just begun.

While you are at it, find out what can be done about the brickyard at Irondale, which has operated continuously, making a complete mess out of Little Yellow Creek and leaving the water unfit for any use by the people who depend upon this little creek.

INVESTIGATE the possibility of stopping the continuous flow of acid mine wastes near Negley since the strippers have moved out after opening up a No. 6 mine and made no effort to plug up the leak.

I also would like to call your attention to the culvert flowing into Ohio from Pennsylvania by an industrial waste company that has several filtration beds in Pennsylvania and possibly doing nothing in violation of the Pennsylvania laws that can be proven.

Yet there is a steady flow of some sort of pollution flowing directly out of Pennsylvania and finding its way into Beaver Creek at Negley.

This company owns several hundred acres of land just across the Ohio line and has built two beautiful fishing ponds, along with other recreational activities and a caretaker to look after their interests. You can bet none of this waste flows into their ponds. Ohio is getting it.

Since Columbiana County has such a well-organized group of conservation - minded people, I would like to suggest you explore the possibilities of a statewide organization in order to become more effective.

While you are at it, look into the laws concerning leveling of the land laid waste by strip-mining operations. Are they following the letter of the law? If so, do we need more effective legislation to stop digging the coal and ir turn laying good land to waste?

I PAY TAXES on my little piece of land where I own my home. More and more land is being laid waste daily by the strippers. Therefore, more and more land is being practically removed from the tax duplicate.

The candle is being burnt on both ends, so the usable land is shrinking. The result. . .higher taxes on people who own good land.

Actually, we are being slapped on the pocketbook and kicked in the "bread basket" at the same time when good land is taken out of production. Could be we are going to need this land sooner than you think.

Keep one thing in mind, a stream that has once had the pollution stopped will come back with both fish and animal life in due time.

At the same time, we are not all fishermen. There are a lot of hunters who need help. When game habitat has been destroyed the game disappears. More damage has been done and still going on to game than fish by a long shot. You did a good job stopping the "parade", now get busy and see what can be done to stop the "big show", acres and acres of land waste.

Mingo Posts 55-54 Score Over Raiders

NEW CUMBERLAND — Mingo Junction's Dick See stepped to the foul line with five seconds to go in an overtime period and dropped in a free throw which gave his team a 55-54 win over New Cumberland in a thriller here Tuesday night.

From the end of the third quarter when the score was tied 34-34 the teams battled at a nip-and-tuck pace, finally winding up the regulation time deadlocked at 50-50.

Another foul shot by Mingo tied the game at 50-50 in the last 30 seconds and New Cumberland failed to score during the time left in the regulation game.

In the overtime, the score was knotted twice at 52-52 and again at 54-54 until See converted the winning foul shot.

The loss leaves New Cumberland with an 8-3 record.

In the loss, sophomore Dennis Carnes paced Coach John Kuzio's team with 19 points while Ken Freshwater hit for 17.

Tulsa Surprises Wichita, 85-83

By The Associated Press

It was a few hours later than High Noon, but down in the valley known as the Basketball Badlands, two quick-draw guys matched shot for shot. When it was all over, eighth-ranked Wichita had been knocked off by tenacious Tulsa.

That's the way it went Tuesday night as Wichita's Ernie Moore and Tulsa's Jim King sank key baskets time after time until the Hurricane sharpshooter hit the target twice in succession and dropped Wichita 85-83 in double overtime.

Moore connected for two foul shots with 2 seconds left in regulation time for a 67-67 tie, the first time Wichita had pulled even since the opening seconds. Tulsa built a four-point lead with 50 seconds left in the first overtime before Dave Stallworth and Moore evened it again.

In overtime No. 2, King connected on two layups that gave Tulsa a lead it never relinquished. King finished with 18 points while Moore had 15. The high scorers were Bill Kusleika of Tulsa with 27 and Stallworth with 25.

It was Wichita's second loss in the Missouri Valley Conference, where everyone winds up chasing Cincinnati, and two losses just about tosses out your title chances.

Negro Student Wins Fight To Enter Clemson

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — A Negro student won a court fight today for admission to all-white Clemson Agricultural College of South Carolina.

The U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals reversed a lower court decision in the case of Harvey B. Gantt, 19, of Charleston, S.C.

The opinion, only a week after arguments were heard, upsets the decision by Judge C.C. Wyche of the U.S. District Court for Western South Carolina.

Wyche ruled last month that Gantt had not proved by the evidence that he was denied admission solely because of his race.

Attorneys for Gantt, who made his bid to enter Clemson as a transfer student from Iowa State University at Ames, had argued it "is no accident" that "South Carolina is now the only Southern state which has not, either by court order or voluntarily, admitted Negro students to its institutions of higher learning attended by white persons."

Stopped Auto Hit By Truck

Brake failure was blamed for a mishap Tuesday at 8:21 p. m. on a freeway ramp at W. 8th St. in which a halted auto was hit from the rear by a half-ton truck police reported.

No one was injured in the collision, which involved a 1957 sedan driven by James Price, 1108 Main St., Wellsville, and a 1950 model truck operated by Donald E. McKinnon, 31, of Wellsville R. D. 1, officers said.

Price told officers he was halted on the ramp, waiting for traffic to clear on W. 8th St., when his auto was hit from the rear by the truck. McKinnon said his brakes failed as he drove down the ramp and he was unable to halt.

The crash damaged the right rear tail light of the auto and scraped the bumper, police said. There was minor damage to the front of the truck.

Another mishap at 9:29 p. m. Tuesday in Rural Ln. at Dresden Ave. damaged a parked 1955 sedan owned by James E. Martin of Westfield, police were told.

Martin told officers the left side of his car was damaged by an auto backing off private property. Police listed the owner of the other auto as Harry C. Womer, 781 Leonard St. The driver's name was not listed.

Herman also put on the ritual ceremony in memory of Fred Kent, Oscar M. Swan, Earl E. Stearns, William E. Knott, Paul L. Bloor, Luther J. Pollitt and Clarence M. Harrington.

An obligation also was held for auxiliary members, including Mrs. Marian Conley, Mrs. Ruth Samberson, Mrs. Margaret Archer and Mrs. Mary Hazlett. Mrs. Francis Cusick, immediate past president, conducted the ceremony.

At the post's regular meeting preceding the special services, James Cregar, commander, appointed John Ruhe as chairman of both the Boys State and Block of Dimes committees.

The post will send four boys to the "state" next spring at Ohio University at Athens. Date of the dimes solicitation remains to be set.

Tentative plans are being made for the 10th District convention June 8-9 with Post 374 as host. The kitchen committee served lunch.

Negro Student Wins Fight To Enter Clemson

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — A Negro student won a court fight today for admission to all-white Clemson Agricultural College of South Carolina.

The U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals reversed a lower court decision in the case of Harvey B. Gantt, 19, of Charleston, S.C.

The opinion, only a week after arguments were heard, upsets the decision by Judge C.C. Wyche of the U.S. District Court for Western South Carolina.

Wyche ruled last month that Gantt had not proved by the evidence that he was denied admission solely because of his race.

Attorneys for Gantt, who made his bid to enter Clemson as a transfer student from Iowa State University at Ames, had argued it "is no accident" that "South Carolina is now the only Southern state which has not, either by court order or voluntarily, admitted Negro students to its institutions of higher learning attended by white persons."

A bake sale will be sponsored by the March of Dimes committee Saturday at the Historical Society museum at the Village Hall, Mrs. Kathryn Mundy, chairman, said.

Autopsy Scheduled In Prisoner's Death

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—An autopsy was scheduled today to determine how Charles Robert Paige, 41, of Springfield died in Clark County Jail a day after the murder case defendant was returned from Lima State Hospital.

Paige's attorney reported him ill Tuesday shortly before he was scheduled for a sanity hearing.

Stopped Auto Hit By Truck

Brake failure was blamed for a mishap Tuesday at 8:21 p. m. on a freeway ramp at W. 8th St. in which a halted auto was hit from the rear by a half-ton truck police reported.

No one was injured in the collision, which involved a 1957 sedan driven by James Price, 1108 Main St., Wellsville, and a 1950 model truck operated by Donald E. McKinnon, 31, of Wellsville R. D. 1, officers said.

Price told officers he was halted on the ramp, waiting for traffic to clear on W. 8th St., when his auto was hit from the rear by the truck. McKinnon said his brakes failed as he drove down the ramp and he was unable to halt.

The crash damaged the right rear tail light of the auto and scraped the bumper, police said. There was minor damage to the front of the truck.

Another mishap at 9:29 p. m. Tuesday in Rural Ln. at Dresden Ave. damaged a parked 1955 sedan owned by James E. Martin of Westfield, police were told.

Martin told officers the left side of his car was damaged by an auto backing off private property. Police listed the owner of the other auto as Harry C. Womer, 781 Leonard St. The driver's name was not listed.

West Virginia Senate Vote Due On Anti-Poll Tax Issue

CHARLESTON (AP) — A vote was scheduled in the Senate today on ratification of the anti-poll tax amendment to the United States Constitution.

After the expected Senate approval, the resolution would still have to go to the House to complete West Virginia ratification. Amendments to the federal Constitution, unlike changes in the State Constitution, are ratified by state legislatures rather than the voters.

The amendment would prohibit interference with anyone's right to vote in a primary or general election for federal office because of failure to pay a poll tax or other tax. West Virginia, which has no poll tax, would not be affected.

The Illinois and New Jersey legislatures already have ratified the amendment and it is pending in California. Ratification by 38 states is needed for approval.

The House, meanwhile, had a pair of bills up for routine first reading. The bills, reported from the Judiciary Committee yesterday, were the first to come onto the floor for action in the 60-day legislative session which opened a week ago.

One was a minor local bill. The other was a bill by Del. Jack R. Nuzum, (D-Randolph), to end the state's annual summer confusion of time zones. The bill would require the governor to proclaim by Feb. 15 each year the official time to be followed statewide.

For several years the state's Northern Panhandle, Eastern Panhandle and some other border areas have observed Daylight Saving Time in the summer while the rest of the state stayed on Eastern Standard Time.

Nuzum's bill is in position to come up for House passage Friday.

At its first meeting yesterday, the House Dedistricting Committe began to grapple with one of the major issues for this session.

This is the reapportionment of the 100 seats in the House and possibly—but not very probably—the redistricting of the 32-member Senate.

A pending suit field in U.S. District Court here by the Kanawha County Court seeks to force realignment of seats in both houses.

A House reapportionment bill introduced by Majority Leader W. T. Brotherton Jr., (D-Kanawha), would combine 15 rural counties into seven districts to share one delegate apiece.

Brotherton's bill is before Watson's committee, along with a bill by Nuzum to increase the number of senatorial districts from 16 to 25. With two senators from each district, this would mean a 50-member Senate.

Accountant Appointed To Pike Commission

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A certified public accountant from Columbus, Edmund C. Redman, 56, was named to the Ohio Turnpike Commission today by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Redman, a Republican succeeds Ralph Winter, who has resigned to accept appointment as chief of the State Division of Securities. Redman is a former assistant chief of the Ohio sales tax division of the State Tax Department.

Rail Merger Would Hurt Pennsylvania, ICC Is Told

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission was told today the proposed merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central Railroads would destroy any possibility of industrial redevelopment and increased employment in nearly all areas of Pennsylvania.

Milton J. Shapp, chairman of the board of the Jerrold Corp. and vice chairman of the National Public Advisory Committee on Area Redevelopment, urged ICC examiners to disallow the merger application.

He suggested instead the establishment of a state transportation authority that would help the industry modernize rail, truck, water and air service in all areas of the state.

Shapp's comments were contained in testimony prepared for a three day regional hearing, one of several the ICC is conducting on the merger. The most recent ended Tuesday in Pittsburgh.

Shapp, saying the merger would strip Pennsylvania of vital rail service in favor of New York State, said the ports of Philadelphia and Erie would suffer irreparable damage.

"Freight service throughout the state, "he added, "will be impaired seriously by the NYC-PRR merger and this can only serve to accelerate the downward spiral of Pennsylvania's economy."

Record First Fatality

WAVERLY, Ohio (AP) — The first fatal accident at the Goodyear Atomic Corp. plant near Piketon in years is on the books.

Walter Geho, 48, truck driver for Goodyear Service Store in Columbus, was pinned between his vehicle and a loading dock Monday and died later in Pike County Hospital here.

John Detchon Speaks

Student Tells Rotary Club Of United Nations Visit

Visiting one of the world's largest cities and observing the United Nations at work was a memorable experience, John Detchon of Beaver Local High School told the Rotary Club Tuesday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

The club sponsored Detchon and Bob Myers of Chester School on a five-day visit to the U. N. in New York City in late November as an annual project.

Pointing out the only other large cities he had visited before the trip were Pittsburgh and Cleveland, Detchon said the visit to New York City "was the greatest thrill of my life."

He compared famous Times Square early in the morning to a "Thursday Dollar Day in East Liverpool."

Detchon spoke in reverent tones of the Statue of Liberty and told of viewing the city from the dizzy heights atop the Empire State Building.

The youths toured the U. N. and sat in on a technical discussion on "The U. N. and the Status of Women." Detchon said the female guides were well - informed and made each tour different and interesting.

He also described his impressions of Idlewild Airport and told of visiting Harlem, the Bronx, and other sections of the city. He said the return trip by air was frightening, after observing the wreckage of a crashed plane in which some were killed.

Myers will speak briefly on his impressions at the club's meeting next Tuesday. Detchon was introduced by Harold Sneddon, program chairman.

Three new members were inducted by Sidney C. Porter Jr., president. They are Stewart Thompson, the Rev. Russell Mase and Donald Honicky.

Porter announced there will be a club assembly following the next meeting. There were three visitors from Midland and one from Lisbon.

County CPA Group Picks Committees

Standing committees were named at the meeting of the Columbiana County Affiliate of the United Cerebral Palsy Association Tuesday night in the clinic rooms of the Mary Patterson Memorial. About 19 attended.

Richard Brian, president, appointed Mrs. William Rager of Wellsville and Mrs. Ray Jolly, affiliation; Frank Fluno, campaign; Brian, finance; Atty. John B. McDonald, legislation; Mrs. Floreine Broderick of Wellsville and Mrs. J. Donald Thompson, reception; Mrs. Dorothy Horsley, nominating; Mrs. G. Richard Jones, program services; Michael Turk, George Serago and William T. McNutt, public relations, and Mrs. Lester Hall, publicity.

Robert Cole of Salineville and Mrs. Horsley were named delegates to the state board, with Fred Perkins of Damascus and William Whalen of East Palestine, alternates.

Lawrence Zollinger reported on the recent Christmas party sponsored by the Parental Group. A vote of thanks was given Mrs. McDonald, liaison officer, for assistance with the party.

Tentative plans were discussed for a dinner meeting in May when a national speaker will be obtained. The committee on arrangements consists of Mrs. Thompson, Rex Reich of Salem, Cole, Mrs. Edna Jones and Mrs. Alex Fisher.

The group decided to purchase a mental maturity scale for use by this group and the Child Counseling Center. A discussion was held on painting the rooms.

The place for the March 19 meeting is pending.

Pete Kelley, who scored 42 points in five games this season, quit basketball at Harvard to concentrate on his studies. He scored 393 points last season.

Center Road Repairs Set

LISBON — Center Township trustees Tuesday night discussed needed repairs for several roads, including Hunter Camp Rd. and the road to the village and township dump.

They were reported rutted badly from the thaw preceding the last cold spell.

No parking signs will be erected in Jordanville area as the result of complaints. Constable William E. Hiscox said the parking also occurs in front of stop signs. Arrests will follow violations after the signs are put up.

It was pointed out that the snow plow cannot keep the roads open when there is parking on both sides of the street.

The trustees agreed to have a governor placed on the Chevrolet snow plow truck and a policy was adopted that laborers should not use their own cars for any township business because they are not covered by the township's insurance.

A contract was signed for office space on the second floor of the Farmers Bank building for another year at a cost of $240.

The board discussed attendance at the Ohio Clerks and Trustees Association convention next week in Columbus. Bills of $1,300 were ordered paid. Next meeting is Jan. 31 at 7 p. m.

Lunch was served by a committee headed by Charles Lewis. The next meeting is Feb. 4.

421 Drivers Face Judge

Light Crashing Tops List Of City Traffic Violations

Traffic light crashing, with 38 citations issued, topped the list of violations for which motorists were haled before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff in 1962 by East Liverpool police.

A summary of the court's criminal docket shows 421 drivers faced the court last year, 201 on citations issued by local police and 220 as a result of arrests made in this area by the State Highway Patrol or under state law by city officers.

Reckless driving was the second most common offense charged under local ordinances, with 37 defendants cited. Thirty-five were before the judge for failure to pay for old parking tickets, but this is a so-called "non-moving" violation.

There were 30 charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol, placing this offense in fourth rank. The fifth numerous charge was failure to stop within the assured clear distance, with 19 violations listed. Speeding and to obey stop signs each accounted for 12 arrests.

Thirteen were cited for failure to stop after an accident. Eleven were charged with illegal turns and five were arrested for failure to yield the right-of-way. Improper backing and failure to stop for a halted school bus each accounted for four arrests.

Driving the wrong way on a one-way street and driving left of center each accounted for three citations.

There were single arrests for each of these violations: Permitting a vehicle's motor to run while unattended; driving while the operator's permit was under suspension; failure to yield half the traveled portion of the road; operating a car with a loud or faulty muffler.

Driving through a service station as a shortcut; failure to have license tags illuminated; operating a car without lights; failure to yield the right-of-way to a pedestrian, and being in physical control of a car while under the influence of alcohol.

Speeding, with 30 violations charged, accounted for the greatest number of arrests made under state law. Operating a car without a driver's license was next with 33. There were 12 arrests for reckless driving; 11 for ignoring a stop sign and 10 each for drunken driving and use of improper license plates.

Charges were filed under 32 other sections of the state code, ranging from passing on a curve to driving too slowly.

Judge Chertoff also heard 239 misdemeanor criminal actions filed under city ordinances. Intoxication led all the arrests, with 150. Assault and battery was the second most common complaint, with 20 cases listed.

There were 190 charges filed in the city court for alleged violations of state law, both felonies and misdemeanors. The most common charge was intoxication, with 67. Petty larceny was next, with 19, and assault and battery ranked third, with 16.

The serious state charges ranged from burglary to armed robbery. In the case of a felony, the local court holds a preliminary hearing to determine whether the defendant should be held to Grand Jury action.

Despite Kennedy Plea For Unity

'Battle Of Miami' Rages Among Cuban Exile Unit

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The "battle of Miami" rages on among splintered Cuban exile groups despite President Kennedy's plea for unity.

About 30,000 Cubans assembled in the Orange Bowl heard the President urge exiles "to submerge those differences which may now disturb you, to the united end that Cuba is free."

Because of the differences mentioned by Kennedy, thousands of others did not hear his plea. They stayed away. A rival political group was conducting the ceremony honoring ransomed invasion prisoners.

No signs of healing the rifts are apparent.

The schism separating some of the 200 anti-Castro bodies is profound. Deep-rooted division prevails particularly between former —and present—followers of ex-dictator Fulgencio Batista and men who risked their lives to overthrow him only to split later with Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Exiles say once they are in a free Cuba, elections will settle everything. But how could binding elections be held in exile under existing conditions? And how could unification be achieved without them? Answers have not been found.

The Cuban Revolutionary Council, formed with U.S. cooperation to mount the April 17, 1961, Cuba invasion, is tacitly recognized by the U.S. government and some others, as the ranking exile organization.

The council has bitter foes as well as staunch supporters among the 300,000 exiles, more than a third of whom live in Miami.

Rival groups ask such things as why Council President Jose Miro Cardona, as Castro's first prime minister, permitted the Cuban executions that brought grief to thousands of families.

Friends reply that whatever delusions Dr. Miro Cardona had about Castro's revolution, he became such an enemy of it later that he sent even his son on the expedition to invade Castro's island. The son, Pepe, was one of the freed prisoners honored at the Dec. 29 Orange Bowl ceremony.

Another, Enrique Llaca Jr., son of a leader of the exile committee that sponsored negotiations for their freedom, had thoughts of his own. Llaca said about 100 of the invasion brigade companies were among exiles boycotting the meeting.

He said neither U.S. nor Cuban leaders had been effective in action against Castro. Llaca said he and two companions had resigned from the brigade.

Llaca said, "We must force some action and we shall do so." He did not outline his plans—allegedly made while in the Cuban prison—but asserted there must be a great force organized outside the United States.

While "Batistianos" or Batista followers and "arrepentidos" or "repented ones," as former Castroites are called, are in the front lines of the battle of Miami, the rift widens.

Dr. Miro Cardona urged anti-Castro groups to unite by joining the council coalition of 11 organizations. But along West Flagler Street, it was business as usual in exile party offices. In general, leaders expressed themselves in favor of unity, as long as the others join their group.

Several formulas, such as general balloting, a convention with all organizations represented, and gradual mergers have been suggested for unification. Unanswered is the question of who would supervise such proceedings in the improbable case that rival factions agreed to them.

The McMahon line, designating the northeast border between India and Tibet, was drawn in 1914 by Sir Henry McMahon, foreign secretary of India.

421 Drivers Face Judge

Light Crashing Tops List Of City Traffic Violations

Traffic light crashing, with 38 citations issued, topped the list of violations for which motorists were haled before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff in 1962 by East Liverpool police.

A summary of the court's criminal docket shows 421 drivers faced the court last year, 201 on citations issued by local police and 220 as a result of arrests made in this area by the State Highway Patrol or under state law by city officers.

Reckless driving was the second most common offense charged under local ordinances, with 37 defendants cited. Thirty-five were before the judge for failure to pay for old parking tickets, but this is a so-called "non-moving" violation.

There were 30 charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol, placing this offense in fourth rank. The fifth numerous charge was failure to stop within the assured clear distance, with 19 violations listed. Speeding and to obey stop signs each accounted for 12 arrests.

Thirteen were cited for failure to stop after an accident. Eleven were charged with illegal turns and five were arrested for failure to yield the right-of-way. Improper backing and failure to stop for a halted school bus each accounted for four arrests.

Driving the wrong way on a one-way street and driving left of center each accounted for three citations.

There were single arrests for each of these violations: Permitting a vehicle's motor to run while unattended; driving while the operator's permit was under suspension; failure to yield half the traveled portion of the road; operating a car with a loud or faulty muffler.

Driving through a service station as a shortcut; failure to have license tags illuminated; operating a car without lights; failure to yield the right-of-way to a pedestrian, and being in physical control of a car while under the influence of alcohol.

Speeding, with 50 violations charged, accounted for the greatest number of arrests made under state law. Operating a car without a driver's license was next with 33. There were 12 arrests for reckless driving, 11 for ignoring a stop sign and 10 each for drunken driving and use of improper license plates.

Charges were filed under 32 other sections of the state code, ranging from passing on a curve to driving too slowly.

Judge Chertoff also heard 239 misdemeanor criminal actions filed under city ordinances. Intoxication led all the arrests, with 150. Assault and battery was the second most common complaint, with 20 cases listed.

There were 190 charges filed in the city court for alleged violations of state law, both felonies and misdemeanors. The most common charge was intoxication, with 67. Petty larceny was next, with 19, and assault and battery ranked third, with 16.

The serious state charges ranged from burglary to armed robbery. In the case of a felony, the local court holds a preliminary hearing to determine whether the defendant should be held to Grand Jury action.

Despite Kennedy Plea For Unity

'Battle Of Miami' Rages Among Cuban Exile Unit

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The "battle of Miami" rages on among splintered Cuban exile groups despite President Kennedy's plea for unity.

About 30,000 Cubans assembled in the Orange Bowl heard the President urge exiles "to submerge those differences which may now disturb you, to the united end that Cuba is free."

Because of the differences mentioned by Kennedy, thousands of others did not hear his plea. They stayed away. A rival political group was conducting the ceremony honoring ransomed invasion prisoners.

No signs of healing the rifts are apparent.

The schism separating some of the 200 anti-Castro bodies is profound. Deep-rooted division prevails particularly between former—and present—followers of ex-dictator Fulgencio Batista and men who risked their lives to overthrow him only to split later with Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Exiles say once they are in a free Cuba, elections will settle everything. But how could binding elections be held in exile under existing conditions? And how could unification be achieved without them? Answers have not been found.

The Cuban Revolutionary Council, formed with U.S. cooperation to mount the April 17, 1961, Cuba invasion, is tacitly recognized by the U.S. government and some others, as the ranking exile organization.

The council has bitter foes as well as staunch supporters among the 300,000 exiles, more than a third of whom live in Miami.

Rival groups ask such things as why Council President Jose Miro Cardona, as Castro's first prime minister, permitted the Cuban executions that brought grief to thousands of families.

Friends reply that whatever delusions Dr. Miro Cardona had about Castro's revolution, he became such an enemy of it later that he sent even his son on the expedition to invade Castro's island. The son, Pepe, was one of the freed prisoners honored at the Dec. 29 Orange Bowl ceremony.

Another, Enrique Llaca Jr., son of a leader of the exile committee that sponsored negotiations for their freedom, had thoughts of his own. Llaca said about 100 of the invasion brigade companies were among exiles boycotting the meeting.

He said neither U.S. nor Cuban leaders had been effective in action against Castro. Llaca said he and two companions had resigned from the brigade.

Llaca said, "We must force some action and we shall do so." He did not outline his plans—allegedly made while in the Cuban prison—but asserted there must be a great force organized outside the United States.

While "Batistianos" or Batista followers and "arrepentidos" or "repented ones," as former Castroites are called, are in the front lines of the battle of Miami, the rift widens.

Dr. Miro Cardona urged anti-Castro groups to unite by joining the council coalition of 11 organizations. But along West Flagler Street, it was business as usual in exile party offices. In general, leaders expressed themselves in favor of unity, as long as the others join their group.

Several formulas, such as general balloting, a convention with all organizations represented, and gradual mergers have been suggested for unification. Unanswered is the question of who would supervise such proceedings in the improbable case that rival factions agreed to them.

The McMahon line, designating the northeast border between India and Tibet, was drawn in 1914 by Sir Henry McMahon, foreign secretary of India.

Suing Slated For Chester Fire Run Fees

Policy on the collection of unpaid bond pledges for fire calls to Chester rural areas was established Tuesday night by Chester Council, which also approved first reading of a dog control ordinance.

Council authorized collection through courts of unpaid fire bond pledges if the fees are not paid within 30 days after a fire call.

Residents of the rural areas who are currently delinquent on the $100 bonds, having had the services of the volunteer fire department at a fire or other emergency, will be sent 10-day warning notices.

Roy Cashdollar, city clerk-treasurer, said only one fire call to bonded homes or businesses outside the city has been paid for in the past four years.

No money is required for obtaining such a fire protection bond, but the property owner signs an agreement to pay in the event firemen are summoned.

Lester Bishop, City Hall caretaker, asked Council if firemen are to be sent to homes without bonds but where fire is reportedly endangering lives. Councilmen agreed the policy of sending firemen where lives are in jeopardy will be continued.

The new dog control ordinance, outgrowth of complaints about dogs last summer, prohibits owners from allowing dogs to run at large and provides for impounding the animals by dog catchers or police.

Owners of licensed dogs are to be notified when pets are impounded, and are liable for the penalty for violating the ordinance plus 50 cents a day for the time the dog has been impounded. Owners are to be notified by letter 14 days prior to intended disposition of a dog.

An unlicensed dog will be disposed of as provided by state law. Abandoning of dogs or cats or leaving animal carcasses within the city is prohibited.

Penalty for violation of the ordinance will be not less than $5 and not more than $25.

Pughtown Club Asked For Centennial Data

Information on the early settlement of Hancock County is needed for use in connection with the West Virginia centennial, it was announced at the meeting of the Pughtown Ruritan Club Tuesday night.

Frank Poland of the Weirton Steel Co. was speaker, discussing human relations. Lester Miller, president, presided.

Miller reported a gas stove was obtained and connected for an elderly couple. He also reported Christmas toys collected for distribution to the needy were turned over to county officials because they had a list of indigent families. Next meeting is Feb. 19.

Tree Snatchers Lift Trio Of Saplings

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—Tree snatchers have lifted a trio of saplings planted last month by President Kennedy, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of England and Premier John Diefenbaker of Canada during their conference here.

Authorities said that evidence indicates the thieves plan to replant the ficus benjamina trees. They were dug out Monday.

Open For Women

BOSTON (AP) — Harvard University announced Tuesday that, for the first time, the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration will be open in September to women for its two-year program.

240 Electors Sign By Mail

More than 240 disqualified East Liverpool electors have taken advantage of a state law that allows them to register again by mail if they act by Feb. 1, the County Election Board staff said today.

The 240 are among 2,044 voters whose names were removed from the registration lists Jan. 1 for failure to vote at least once in the preceding two years or take some other action that would keep their card in an "active" status.

Notices were mailed each of the voters explaining the reason for the action. Part of the notice was a postcard form which the disqualified electors could use to reinstate their registration, provided they acted within 30 days.

To have their names placed on the rolls again, the electors need only list their name and address, affix their signature and drop the card into the mailbox.

The provision for reinstatement of registration by mail was written into the law a few years ago by the State Legislature. Before the amendment was made, every disqualified elector was required to visit his County Election Board office in person to have his name listed again.

Those who do not return the notices by the Feb. 1 deadline will be required to register again in person if they wish to vote in the May 7 primaries.

The board's staff said past experience has shown only about 10 per cent of the reinstatement cards are returned. This year apparently will prove the exception, as more than 10 per cent already have been returned.

Suing Slated For Chester Fire Run Fees

Policy on the collection of unpaid bond pledges for fire calls to Chester rural areas was established Tuesday night by Chester Council, which also approved first reading of a dog control ordinance.

Council authorized collection through courts of unpaid fire bond pledges if the fees are not paid within 30 days after a fire call.

Residents of the rural areas who are currently delinquent on the $100 bonds, having had the services of the volunteer fire department at a fire or other emergency, will be sent 10-day warning notices.

Roy Cashdollar, city clerk-treasurer, said only one fire call to bonded homes or businesses outside the city has been paid for in the past four years.

No money is required for obtaining such a fire protection bond, but the property owner signs an agreement to pay in the event firemen are summoned.

Lester Bishop, City Hall caretaker, asked Council if firemen are to be sent to homes without bonds but where fire is reportedly endangering lives. Councilmen agreed the policy of sending firemen where lives are in jeopardy will be continued.

The new dog control ordinance, outgrowth of complaints about dogs last summer, prohibits owners from allowing dogs to run at large and provides for impounding the animals by dog catchers or police.

Owners of licensed dogs are to be notified when pets are impounded, and are liable for the penalty for violating the ordinance plus 50 cents a day for the time the dog has been impounded. Owners are to be notified by letter 14 days prior to intended disposition of a dog.

An unlicensed dog will be disposed of as provided by state law. Abandoning of dogs or cats or leaving animal carcasses within the city is prohibited.

Penalty for violation of the ordinance will be not less than $5 and not more than $25.

Pughtown Club Asked For Centennial Data

Information on the early settlement of Hancock County is needed for use in connection with the West Virginia centennial, it was announced at the meeting of the Pughtown Ruritan Club Tuesday night.

Miller reported a gas stove was obtained and connected for an elderly couple. He also reported Christmas toys collected for distribution to the needy were turned over to county officials because they had a list of indigent families. Next meeting is Feb. 19.

Tree Snatchers Lift Trio Of Saplings

Concert Eyed At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — Plans for a spring concert by a professional chorus or a college band were discussed at a meeting of the Southern Local Band Boosters Club Tuesday night at the high school.

Charles Temple, director, was instructed to determine if a chorus or band could be obtained for such a concert in the spring, similar to the Kent State Band concert last year.

It was reported the band uniform fund now has $1,200 toward the goal of $5,000 for new uniforms late this year.

Renewal of insurance on the band instruments was authorized at a cost of $150. Action on entering into a countywide band insurance program was tabled because the Southern Local policy expires Sunday.

Temple reported three students are scheduled to play at the all-District 8 band conference at Canal Fulton. They are Delbert Williams, tuba; Paulette Kerr, clarinet, and Willard Dean, french horn.

A new order of glass cleaner was authorized for sale as a fund-raising project.

Temple was requested to have a representative of the Ostwald Uniform Co. attend the meeting Feb. 5. About 20 attended.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: Many people do not like to put clorinated water on their plants and ferns.

To solve this problem — after hearing all my neighbors who are horticulturists — I came across the answer after discussing it with a friend of ours who is a chemist.

When I defrost my refrigerator and deep freeze I take the blocks and pieces of ice and lay them upon each plant and fern in my house. I found that this melted slowly which watered the roots of the plants gently, and, so far as I know and my friend the chemist tells me, there was no chlorine involved!

The chemist said that by the time the air hits the frozen ice which has been placed on top of the plant, the water it makes. . . is warm by the time it hits the root of the plant — thus preventing root shock!

Could my educated friend be right?

I take many magazines and periodicals on these subjects and never has anyone given me the answer until my friend brought this to my attention last week.

DORIS C.

Dear Doris: So far as I know, I don't see how you could be wrong. But our question now is —why?

If anyone can give us the solution to this "problem" and why it works we would most appreciate it. I have researched through the entire library and this solution, or the answer, is not there!

Address your letters to Heloise. I am most excited about this woman's new discovery.

HELOISE.

Satin Comfort Bag

DEAR HELOISE: I keep my rayon satin comfort on the bed by covering it with ten yards of printed material. This costs only about 49 cents a yard and the total price for this project is only $4.90.

I tear this 10 yards of material in half which leaves me with two 5-yard pieces. I then sew these two lengths together along the selvage. Fold this in half.

Sew up both sides, forming a pillow - case type sack. On the open end, sew buttons and buttonholes. (Snap or other type fasteners could be used.)

Insert your satin comfort in this comfort bag. When putting it on the bed turn the buttons and buttonholes towards the bottom of the bed.

Result? A comfort that never slips, a cover that may be removed in a jiffy for laundring, and no more "slippy" comforts.

ELEANOR.

DEAR HELOISE: For the wives who want to know how to use left-over beef or lunch meat, put it through a food grinder.

Mix the ground meat with salad dressing, sweet relish or chopped pickles, minced onion, etc. Use this for sandwiches or . . . use ground beef mixed with cracker crumbs, butter, minced onions, enough tomato sauce to make meatballs. These are real good. I have used them in our restaurant and they are well-liked.

OLD RESTAURANT COOK.

Use For Old Towels

DEAR HELOISE: When my bath towels become thin and worn in the middle, I tear off the thick border at each end, turning the raw edges in and stitching around all sides on the sewing machine. This makes wonderful pot holders that can be thrown in the laundry.

When suede shoes get old and worn and seemingly past wearing . . . give them a good coat of liquid shoe polish (there are special types sold for suede). Set back and let them dry thoroughly, preferably several days or a week. Then take some sandpaper and rub the suede gently. This will remove all of the scuff and slick spots.

G. B.

-:-

It works! You doll.

Love,
HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: The easiest way I have found to clean my can opener is to take an old tooth brush and dip it in cleaner and just scrub back and forth.

MRS. GERALD KELLER

Beaver Sees Juvenile Case Decline In '62

BEAVER — William L. Ambrose, Beaver County probation officer, reported a decrease of 25 to 414 for the number of juvenile cases handled by his office in 1962. He heard 292 and judges 122.

There were 267 in detention during the year and offenses included larceny, up to 43 from 26; burglaries, down one to 38; auto theft, down to 22 from 34 last year, and motor vehicle code violations, dropping from 51 in 1962 to 11 last year, mainly because a new law permits other agencies to handle most cases.

Some of the auto theft cases were repeaters. The number of runaways was unchanged at 33 and school truancy totaled 13 against six the previous year. Malicious mischief cases declined from 62 to 43.

Only two children were committed to the County Jail, and that for their protection, the remainder going to the new Allencrest Detention Home. There were 47 children in institutions as of Dec. 31, 1962, rising to 50 by midsummer then decreasing to 37. There was an increase in dependent and neglected cases, from 51 to 75. Of this number 54 were state child welfare cases, 11 in local Catholic Charities and 10 through Ambrose's office.

The office collected a total of $14,610.49 in juvenile cases, including $1,058 for county fines and costs, $170 in state cases, $95 in miscellaneous, $3,340.99 for restitution for damages and $9,946.50 for maintenance in institutions.

Adult probation collections totaled $1,024,426, including $924,000 in non-support cases. The total was in increase of $115,000 over 1961.

4 GIs To Face Longer Term In Prisoner's Garb

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Four Ohio GI's face a much longer stretch in prisoner's garb than the time they were doing for absence without leave—and in exchange for their bleak prospect, they enjoyed only a day or two of shaky freedom.

Army authorities, including Capt. John L. Otenberger, provost marshal at Ft. Hayes here, and the Ohio Highway Patrol completed rounding up the foursome with two arrests near Carey and Fostoria in Northwest Ohio Tuesday.

The other two were nabbed in Columbus Monday night.

Back in custody after overpowering a guard and escaping the stockade at Ft. Knox, Ky., Sunday were Pvts. Ray D. Jackson, 23, of Carey; Adam J. Marshall, 18, of Fostoria, and Raymond F. Garrett, 19, and David L. Chase, 20, both of Columbus.

All were caught in or near their home towns. A tip led to Garrett and Chase, together in a house here. Description of the car he was driving helped in Jackson's capture, and Marshall was apprehended shortly after Jackson.

The escapees took four .45 caliber automatics and a .38 caliber gun. But none of the foursome was reported to have resisted arrest.

Many Due 20%-30% Tax Cut In Kennedy's Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury Department says President Kennedy's tax cut proposals, if enacted, would mean reductions of 20 to 30 per cent for many persons with incomes of $20,000 or less.

In tables released Monday night showing what Kennedy's proposals would mean for certain taxpayers, the Treasury noted that the figures do not show the effect of certain changes to be proposed later in tax treatment of some types of income.

Also, the department said, the tables apply only to taxpayers claiming the standard 10 per cent deduction.

Dr. King Backs Interfaith Drive On Race Barriers

CHICAGO (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King has given his blessing to an interfaith campaign against racial barriers. But he says each church "should remove the yoke of segregation from its own body."

He also said church members should bring minority families into their communities and help them find homes.

The Atlanta Negro clergyman, a leader of the non-violent wing of the forces of integration and president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, outlined his views Tuesday.

He held a news conference at the National Conference on Religion and Race, a meeting of 650 members of Protestant, Jewish and Roman Catholic organizations who are drawing up a program of action.

Sargent Shriver Jr., director of the Peace Corps, addressed the conferees Tuesday night and suggested that church members could tithe their time and form volunteer religious units to work to eliminate racial barriers in the United States.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: Many people do not like to put clorinated water on their plants and ferns.

To solve this problem — after hearing all my neighbors who are horticulturists — I came across the answer after discussing it with a friend of ours who is a chemist.

When I defrost my refrigerator and deep freeze I take the blocks and pieces of ice and lay them upon each plant and fern in my house. I found that this melted slowly which watered the roots of the plants gently, and, so far as I know and my friend the chemist tells me, there was no chlorine involved!

The chemist said that by the time the air hits the frozen ice which has been placed on top of the plant, the water it makes. . . is warm by the time it hits the root of the plant — thus preventing root shock!

Could my educated friend be right?

I take many magazines and periodicals on these subjects and never has anyone given me the answer until my friend brought this to my attention last week.

DORIS C.

Dear Doris: So far as I know, I don't see how you could be wrong. But our question now is —why?

If anyone can give us the solution to this "problem" and why it works we would most appreciate it. I have researched through the entire library and this solution, or the answer, is not there!

Address your letters to Heloise. I am most excited about this woman's new discovery.

HELOISE.

Satin Comfort Bag

DEAR HELOISE: I keep my rayon satin comfort on the bed by covering it with ten yards of printed material. This costs only about 49 cents a yard and the total price for this project is only $4.90.

I tear this 10 yards of material in half which leaves me with two 5-yard pieces. I then sew these two lengths together along the selvage. Fold this in half.

Sew up both sides, forming a pillow - case type sack. On the open end, sew buttons and buttonholes. (Snap or other type fasteners could be used.)

Insert your satin comfort in this comfort bag. When putting it on the bed turn the buttons and buttonholes towards the bottom of the bed.

Result? A comfort that never slips, a cover that may be removed in a jiffy for laundring, and no more "slippy" comforts.

ELEANOR.

DEAR HELOISE: For the wives who want to know how to use left-over beef or lunch meat, put it through a food grinder.

Mix the ground meat with salad dressing, sweet relish or chopped pickles, minced onion, etc. Use this for sandwiches or . . . use ground beef mixed with cracker crumbs, butter, minced onions, enough tomato sauce to make meatballs. These are real good. I have used them in our restaurant and they are well-liked.

OLD RESTAURANT COOK.

Use For Old Towels

DEAR HELOISE: When my bath towels become thin and worn in the middle, I tear off the thick border at each end, turning the raw edges in and stitching around all sides on the sewing machine. This makes wonderful pot holders that can be thrown in the laundry.

When suede shoes get old and worn and seemingly past wearing . . . give them a good coat of liquid shoe polish (there are special types sold for suede). Set back and let them dry thoroughly, preferably several days or a week. Then take some sandpaper and rub the suede gently. This will remove all of the scuff and slick spots.

G. B.

-:-

It works! You doll.

Love,

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: The easiest way I have found to clean my can opener is to take an old tooth brush and dip it in cleaner and just scrub back and forth.

Beaver Sees Juvenile Case Decline In '62

BEAVER — William L. Ambrose, Beaver County probation officer, reported a decrease of 25 to 414 for the number of juvenile cases handled by his office in 1962. He heard 292 and judges 122.

There were 267 in detention during the year and offenses included larceny, up to 43 from 26; burglaries, down one to 38; auto theft, down to 22 from 34 last year, and motor vehicle code violations, dropping from 51 in 1962 to 11 last year, mainly because a new law permits other agencies to handle most cases.

Some of the auto theft cases were repeaters. The number of runaways was unchanged at 33 and school truancy totaled 13 against six the previous year. Malicious mischief cases declined from 62 to 43.

Only two children were committed to the County Jail, and that for their protection, the remainder going to the new Allencrest Detention Home. There were 47 children in institutions as of Dec. 31, 1962, rising to 50 by midsummer then decreasing to 37. There was an increase in dependent and neglected cases, from 51 to 75. Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Ernie Ford Holds Hillbilly Expert Title

Ernie Ford disagrees with my contention that "The Beverly Hillbillies" is a hit because it appeals to the public's class-conscious reaction to the very rich. When any member of Granny Clampett's clan outsmarts Banker Drysdale and his wealthy Beverly Hills ilk, I maintain this is the action which most stimulates the home viewers. But Ernie says the big lure of the series is that the Clampetts are kind and sympathetic people.

Hal Humphrey

-:-

"YOU CAN just look on Jed Clampett's face and tell he wants his daughter Elly Mae to be good, and this gives you a warm feeling, don't it?" asks Ernie.

"How many people do you see on your TV who you would have to your house for dinner? Well, I'd sure have the Clampetts any ol' time," Ernie adds.

Since Ernie has all of the credentials of an expert in the hillbilly field, his opinion on "The Beverly Hillbillies" certainly cannot be ignored.

It wasn't too many years ago that Tennessee Ernie Ford was the star of a local TV clambake called "Hometown Jamboree." He wore blacked-out teeth and bib overalls, and when the emcee asked him to spell "rat," Ernie would pipe up and ask, "You mean like in 'R-a-at now'?"

-:-

IT WAS ONLY a matter of time before a man with jokes like that would be graduated to network TV, which Ernie did. Ultimately he reached the pinnacle of nighttime TV with a modest dipperful of cornpone which on Thursday nights managed consistently to outpoint "Playhouse 90."

Now Ernie has a model farm outside San Francisco, and every morning he goes out to the barn, turns on the electric milker, then goes into the Bay City and tapes his daytime "Ernie Ford" show for ABC.

Over the years, Ernie has refined his hillbilly twang, hidden the bib overalls and probably capped his teeth. He guested on a recent Andy Williams show in a lush black cashmere sweater, and the only clue that it was still Ernie was his old gag about "bein' as nervous as a long-tailed cat in a roomful of rockin'chairs."

HE ALSO SHOWED Andy how to milk a cow, who looked completely disgusted over the prospect. One might say now that Ernie has elevated hillbilly entertainment to its zenith.

"Of course, you'll never know why 40 million people all watch a show," continues Ernie, " 'cause they all have different reasons. Now take me, I like that fine old musty smell 'Beverly Hillbillies' has about it. And my own grandmother looked like Granny Clampett, but you can't say she looks like everybody's grandma, can you?

"Hardly any of those 40 million viewers have seen characters like the Clampetts or the people in Beverly Hills, but they've heard of both, and the fellow who does the show keeps most of the characters honest, too."

THE ONLY character in "Beverly Hillbillies" whom Ernie doesn't buy is Louis Nye as Sonny Drysdale. He thinks Louis plays him much "too broadly."

This might elicit a laugh from Louis, especially if he saw Ernie play the cornball "Cousin Ernie" to Lucy Ball on two of the "I Love Lucy" shows one season.

The fans ate it up, however, and Lucy got bales of letters asking for "Cousin Ernie" to be brought back.

There is something about hillbillies which has the universal appeal of little girls and puppy dogs.

Television Program Was A 'Smash Hit'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — James W. Wilson, 41, said the television program he was watching was a smash hit.

As Wilson watched, there was an explosion and bits of glass sprayed over the living room. The blast came from the TV set, but the show went on, uninterrupted.

The front safety glass had mysteriously shattered. A repairman said a jetliner passing overhead might have been to blame.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Encourage Child To Dress Himself

The mother who is able to induce her little child to feed himself, dress himself, and care for himself in other ways as soon as he is able to do so has done well. Conspiring against her is her own ability at doing everything for him very skillfully and quickly. She is so encumbered with other matters and he is so slow and awkward in comparison that it is not easy for her to wait patiently while he is learning. So she tends to keep on doing ever so many things for him which he can do for himself.

Dr. Garry Meyers

So eager to do things for himself, he often may be vexed when she doesn't wait and let him do them. How often he may say, "Self" or the like, meaning, "I want to do it myself". But if denied this privilege long and often, he may not only lose the urge to wait on himself, but enjoy being waited on.

—:—

BY AND BY, he may not do many things for himself he could do or many things his mother wants him to do.

Occasionally, she is annoyed at him when he doesn't do such things as dress himself wholly or in part. Then, as she tries angrily to force him to do so, he inclines to be resistant and he and she may grow increasingly vexed at each other.

Keep in mind your objective of guiding the little child to be self-sufficient and self - reliant. Bear in mind that you will need to be patient and that you can't hurry this youngster.

As soon as he wants to help remove his shoes, stockings or other clothing, try to wait and let him do so. Celebrate his successes.

As soon as he wants to help rehim to help by pulling his own arm into a sleeve or putting on a stocking or a shoe. Also let him help as you brush his teeth, wash his hands and bathe him.

Earlier than you think, he can get himself a drink of water or put some of his toys away.

WHEN FOR the first time he puts on some of his clothes alone, express great pleasure over his achievement and still more pleasure when he all alone has dressed himself except for tying his shoes. This will be among his later achievements which your gentle, patient help can promote.

After your tot has learned to dress himself he may, for some reason, lose interest in doing so. Please don't let yourself grow vexed at him then. A little bit of help and encouragement, instead, may restore his self - reliance.

Often when there is a young brother or sister, the older child, seeing all the necessary help this younger child receives, may expect you to dress him.

Better than trying to force him to dress himself is to give him some gracious help then and to seek ways at other times of the day to make him feel he is as much loved and as worthy and important as the baby is.

My bulletins, "Self - Reliance," "Celebrate Your Child's Successes" and "Preventing and Reducing Jealousy", may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

On this day:

In 1778, France recognized the independence of the United States.

In 1855, the first Nebraska territorial legislature convened at Omaha.

In 1920, the 18th or Prohibition Amendment to the Constitution became effective.

In 1951, natural gas began flowing into New York City through a 1,840-mile pipeline from Texas.

Today's birthdays:

Musical comedy star Ethel Merman is 54. Baseball hall of famer Dizzy Dean is 52.

Thought for today:

Man has his will, but woman has her way — Oliver Wendell Holmes.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. Can you suggest an easy way for a girl to add a pleasant aroma to her personal stationery?

A. Try putting a drop or so of your favorite perfume into your personal ink bottle or fountain pen. This should do the trick.

Q. How can I repair some loose drawer knobs?

A. Where the screw holes have enlarged, remove the knob, fill the hole with a sliver of wood (a piece of match stick will do), preferably dipped in glue, then screw the knob in again. For knobs with wooden screws, apply glue to the threaded part and under the flange.

Junior Editors Quiz on BONES

QUESTION: What are the hardest, longest and funniest bones in the body?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The hardest is the "petrous" bone, which is at the bottom part of the skull. It needs to be strong, because the delicate organ of hearing lies inside. In our drawing we have shown it larger than it would be in the boy's head. The hole is where the nerve to the ear comes out. The longest bone is the femur, certainly one of the most useful to us. It is inside the upper part, or thigh, of the leg and it takes a tremendous strain as we run and jump. As you see, there is only one bone in the thigh, while there are two (tibia and fibula) in the lower part of the leg. Dave and his friend Phil are demonstrating one of the funniest parts of the body, the lower rigs where one's ticklish center is located. Our artist had a hard time drawing this picture because the two boys posing for him kept tickling each other and he couldn't keep them still. At lower left we show the location of the true funny bone, at the back of the elbow. It is where a nerve from the ulna bone of the lower arm rests against the lower part of the humerous bone of the upper arm.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: See if you can locate your funny bone. By feeling around with your fingertip you can find a place under the elbow where it feels "funny" when you press it. Don't punch it hard or bang it against something. The term "funny bone" may have come from the name of the humerous bone.

As winter closes in on the North, summer is opening a new cycle in the life of Antarctica's engaging little clowns, the Adelies.

The breeding season for these penguins is well under way on the rocky headlands of the south polar continent. Soon chicks will be leaving their sheltered nests to learn the skills and hazards of survival.

More than 17 species of penguins live in the Southern Hemisphere. But only two — the prolific Adelie and its big, regal cousin, the Emperor — inhabit the vast, frozen continent.

The lively Adelies are the comedians of the family. With Chaplinesque gravity, they toboggan down snowy slopes and joy-ride on cakes of ice. Sometimes they waddle, on short awkward legs, in processions that suggest columns of tipsy toy soldiers.

Like other penguins, the Adelies have black and white feathers. The formal, dress-shirt-and-tails effect makes their antics all the funnier.

They have no fear of man. Rather, they seem fascinated by the strange giants who have invaded their domain. Insatiably curious, Adelies are forever underfoot when construction or other activities are going on.

Exercise Routine Cures Invalid

Back pain strikes more often than any other physically-induced ache. As with the model in yesterday's column, the trouble is usually traceable to the strain of poor posture and lack of exercise.

Ida Jean Kain

After years of working in one - sided posture, the muscles of her back rebelled. Finally she resorted to back-strengthening exercises prescribed by an orthopedic specialist.

Today friends marvel at her strength, and well they might. She painted six large rooms and the hall, ceilings and all! This backbreaking chore of a homemaker - office worker who a scant six month previous could scarcely move without unbearable pain!

BE SURE TO check with your own doctor if there is any question as to the type of exercises which you can take safely.

Starting position: Lying on back on blanket on floor, knees bent, soles of feet on floor. Have arms bent and elbows on floor at shoulder level.

1. Relax with deep breathing. Due to pressure, many backaches are aggravated by nervous tension. Inhale deeply through nose, exhale by hissing or blowing through mouth. Expel all air. Relax and repeat three times, at both start and finish of exercises.

2. Pelvic roll. R-o-l-l pelvis toward ribs, flattening lower back smack against floor. Try to curl the tip of the spine upward, concentrate on making the end of the spine actually lift itself ... just the tip end. Hold muscle contraction to slow count of six, and slowly lower to floor. Repeat three times.

3. Same position, on back, knees bent, soles of feet flat on mat. Have palms of hands on thighs. Slowly raise head and shoulders off floor and slide hands toward knees. Hold for a slow count of six and slowly lower. Hold contraction, but do not hold breath. Keep feet flat on mat.

4. Position. Lie face downward, head on folded arms, legs straight down. Squeeze buttock muscles together tightly. Hold. Relax, repeat six times. From same position, raise right leg, four inches up, knee straight. Hold, lower slowly, repeat six times. Perform with left leg.

DO NOT ALLOW any roll toward the side to come into exercise action.

Do these exercises daily, or twice daily. In a short time you'll be amazed at your own strength and feeling of well - being.

Send a stamped, self - addressed long envelope for two leaflets, "Away With Middle Spread," and "Get A Lift With Posture." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

There's A Difference

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — All bourbons contain the same basic ingredients. Differences in body, color, taste and aroma are due to the proportions and quality of corn, rye and barley, variations in the amount of water used in mashing the grain, the distillation processes, the proof (alcoholic content) at which the whisky is distilled, types of barrels used during aging, length of aging and type of warehouses.

Furnace Re-Lighted At Weirton Steel

WEIRTON — Due to an improvement in business conditions, the No. 1 blast furnace at the Weirton Steel Co. has been returned to operation following a shut-down during which it was relined, it was announced by C. G. Tournay, president.

Pointing out that with the start-up of the unit, Weirton Steel now has all four of its blast furnaces in operation, Tournay said that "there are good indications that 1963 will be a better year for us than was 1962."

He said improved business conditions have resulted in the call-back of a considerable number of employes who had been on lay-off status.

Progress on the construction project at the company's Steubenville Plant, where a new Halogen process electrolytic tin coating line is being installed, is proceeding on schedule and between now and the early part of February most employes will be called back to work there.
